$2,000,000 ATHENS CLUB BONDS SOLD

Financial Plan For 11-Story Building to Cover Whole Block at 14th, Franklin Needs Only Members' O.K.

L. A. Insurance Co. Purchases $1,500,000 of Issue; First Outside Investment; Buys Remaining $500,000

Bonds of the new Athens Athletic Club's proposed eleven-story building at Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Franklin and Webster streets to the extent of $1,500,000 are to be purchased outright by the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles and the remaining $500,000 are to be taken by Oakland banks, which already have over-subscribed the amount, according to a financial plan which is to be submitted to the club's entire membership for its approval at a special meeting tonight.

The project, which ranks among the two or three greatest ever put through in Oakland, involves the erection of an eleven-story structure covering the entire block now used by the Southern Pacific as the Oakland terminus for its electric lines. The building will be used as a station and terminus for the railway company, a general office block and club. More than $2,000,000 will be expended on the project, of which $1,500,000 will be "outside money."

STRUCTURE FORESEEN AS GREAT MONEY-MAKER.

The financial arrangements, which are more favorable than the club's officials first believed possible, are the result, it is declared, of the recognition of the proposed office and railway terminus building, to be located in the heart of Oakland, as a huge money-maker.

The plan provides for the purchase of the block-square of land from the Southern Pacific Company at a price of $1,250,000, through the sale of stock. Most of this stock is to be purchased by the club itself, and the bulk of that to be taken by the public. The plan has already been taken up by OUTSIDERS' CONFIDENCE IN OAKLAND SHOWN.

A feature of the arrangements just completed with the Pacific Mutual and the Southern Pacific lies in the numerous evidences they contain of the confidence placed in the future of Oakland by these big outside corporations.

One of these is the fact that the Pacific Mutual Company has never before made a single investment of more than $1,000,000, and, in addition, has chosen Oakland as the first point outside of its home city in which to invest.

S. P. TO TAKE SECOND MORTGAGE ON PROPERTY

Another is the fact that the Southern Pacific company has been willing to accept a second mortgage on the property as security for the unpaid portion of the purchase price of the land on which the building is to be situated.

Still another is the fact that the eastern bond house—that of Kidder, Peabody & Company of New York—which, until the recent days of the negotiations was contemplated as the financial backer of the project, has announced, in spite of its expressed disappointment at not being allowed to complete the deal, that it still stands ready, if necessary, to back the project to the extent of more than $2,000,000.

BONDS BOUGHT BY L. A. COMPANY AT PAR

The bonds, which bear 6 per cent interest and are to run for 20 years, will be purchased at par by the insurance company.

The preferred stock will carry a 7 per cent interest rate, will be cumulative, and will be callable after three years at 110. It will be issued to the extent of $250,000. This stock, it is announced, will be open to public subscription. Much of it has already been subscribed, many of the individual subscriptions being in blocks of $20,000 and $25,000.

Common stock will be issued up to $350,000, but all of this will be purchased by the club.

The plan of the organization's officials provides for the complete ownership of the entire property by the club in at least 20 years. This would mean that within that period the outstanding $2,000,000 of bonds would be redeemed, and the $250,000 of preferred stock called in and retired, leaving the property without encumbrance.

By switching, within the past few weeks, to the present financial plan, the club officials have won several months, the club officials have effected a saving, they declare of approximately $120,000. The first plan provided for the purchase of the bonds by an "outside" house. The selling

To Receive Crowns KING FERDINAND and QUEEN MARIE of Rumania, will hold coronation ceremony next week.

CORONATION TO COST FORTUNES

King and Queen of Rumania to Hold Ceremony Next Week

BUCHAREST, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The much-postponed coronation of King Ferdinand and Queen Marie will be held next week. The ceremonies are expected to provide the most elaborate festival in the history of Rumania, with an estimated total public and private expenditure of $20,000,000 francs.

The program will begin on Sunday with the arrival of the royal family at Alba Julia, in the heart of Transylvania, where the actual coronation will take place.

It is a village of only 6000 inhabitants, but for the next two days will be the object of a pilgrimage by fully 200,000 loyal subjects, mostly Transylvanian peasants dressed in what Rumanian termed the most picturesque costumes in Europe—the men in embroidered pants and shirts, and the women in enormous hoopskirts, decorated with gold coins and jewels.

Upon their arrival the sovereigns will be received by the premier and other members of the government, and will be driven in gaily decorated carriages with a military escort to the cathedral, where high church dignitaries will celebrate a solemn mass and the coronation will take place.

After the cathedral ceremony the heralds-at-arms will read the king's proclamation and a state luncheon will be held. This will be followed by a military review, the day ending with the departure of the party for Bucharest, where they will arrive Monday.

From the railway station the royal procession will pass under a massive arch of triumph. There the king will receive the traditional bread and salt.

The program provides for a great pageant in the afternoon, illustrating the various phases in the country's history, and in the evening a state dinner and reception to the foreign missions and the diplomatic corps. The United States will be represented by the American minister, Peter Augustus Jay.

One of those who had planned to attend, but who was obliged to send regrets, is the distinguished King Constantine of Greece. Tuesday morning 10,000 mayors from every province in the kingdom will salute the sovereign, who will be present at a banquet in Carol Park. Nearly two miles of tables have been erected for this affair, which will cost in the neighborhood of 40,000,000 francs.

The king and queen will receive the members of parliament Tuesday and the festivities will end with a gala performance in the National theater that evening.

Admiral Plunket Gets N. Y. Command

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Rear Admiral Charles Plunket, president of the naval board of inspection and survey, was today assigned as commander of the third naval district (New York). Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, relieved of command of the Asiatic fleet, was assigned to the navy general board.

ALL SHIPPING BOARD CRAFT REMAIN DRY

President Holds Federal Vessels Must Comply With Ruling, Regardless of Injunction Granted Owners

Enforcement of Ban to Be Stayed Until Restraining Order Returned, Nov. 17; Great Britain Will Protest

By WILLIAM J. LOSH, United Press Staff Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Shipping Board vessels will remain dry by President Harding's order, regardless of the outcome of injunction proceedings brought in New York in behalf of private American ship owners, Chairman Lasker of the Shipping Board, said here today.

President Harding holds that the government-owned vessels are American territory under the Daugherty ruling, and are subject to the Volstead act, Lasker said. If private owners are successful in having the ruling set aside, Shipping Board liners will nevertheless remain dry by his order.

President Harding and his cabinet devoted nearly the entire session today to a discussion of the various phases of the recent ruling prohibiting liquor on American vessels throughout the world and on foreign vessels in American territorial waters.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Prohibition officials said today that enforcement of the new ban against liquor probably will be stayed generally until October 17, as a result of the restraining order returnable on that date issued by Federal Judge Hand of New York.

J. J. Britt, chief counsel of the Prohibition unit, declared that although technically the restraining order would halt enforcement of the new ruling only in Judge Hand's district, "by implication" the stay would also apply through the country generally.

Britt conferred with Secretary Mellon prior to the meeting of the Cabinet today discussing the draft of the notice to be sent to ship owners and the temporary instructions to customs officers being drawn up for their guidance in the clamping down the lid on liquor aboard ships.

PASSENGERS ARE CARRYING THEIR OWN.

LONDON, Oct. 13 (By International News Service).—British shipping interests today filed formal protest with the British board of trade against the American prohibition ruling forbidding ships carrying liquor from entering the three-mile zone of the American coast.

New perplexities are arising in connection with the American ruling. Many of the passengers are barking upon the American liner George Washington to return to the United States carried their own drinks with them. Large purchases of various kinds of whiskeys and wines were made by Americans, who said that the prohibition ruling would not be allowed to interfere with their thirst. British officials are curious to see how the American customs officers will deal with Americans who "carry their own."

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL ENTER PROTEST.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Unless an injunction is granted the Cunard line, the British government probably will protest formally through the foreign office against the rule prohibiting liquor on foreign ships in American waters. It was stated in official quarters today. Officials here, however, express the opinion that an injunction will be granted in the American courts.

By W. H. ATKINS, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Orders went out from Washington this afternoon that a "rule of reason" is to be followed by the government's agents in enforcing the Daugherty bone-dry ruling in American waters.

The orders came from Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who is charged with the enforcement of the Daugherty ruling, and they were dispatched to all diplomatic and customs agents abroad as well as to enforcement officers at home.

Secretary Mellon declared there were two ways of interpreting the Daugherty ruling—on a "strict interpretation," which would render liable for seizure every foreign vessel that entered American ports with any kind of liquor aboard; the other "a broad interpretation" that would permit foreign vessels to carry liquor for their crew etc., and permit them such a wide latitude that no seizures would be likely at all unless there was bootlegging or bar business abroad.

"The treasury department will take the broad interpretation and not the strict one," said Secretary Mellon. "The Daugherty opinion will only be applied in extreme cases."

French Clash With British On War Debt

PARIS, Oct. 13.—France and Great Britain, who have just smoothed over their differences in Near Eastern policy, were at odds again today. Clash between Sir John Bradbury and M. Barthou was freely predicted in the press and by officialdom when the reparations commission went into session today.

M. Barthou, the French representative, is reported to have received instructions from his government to oppose the plan of British for dealing with German war debts, which includes the following:

- 1.—Granting of a five-year cash moratorium to Germany.
- 2.—Germany, in lieu of cash payments, to meet the obligations by issuing bonds to the Allies.
- 3.—These bonds to be guaranteed by the Allies and marketed to whoever cares to purchase.

This plan is at variance with the policy of France, who believes that the former enemy country should be made to meet her obligations in cash on the day they fall due.

REVOLT LOOMED, SAYS TORY HEAD

Chamberlain Pledges Support to Lloyd George in Sensational Speech.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Oct. 13.—(By International News Service.)

Austen Chamberlain, leader of the Tory party and government spokesman in the House of Commons, in a sensational political speech here today, declared that "revolution has been close to England's doors."

Chamberlain added: "These are times when parties must rally to the defense of the constitution."

PREMIER LORD GEORGE HAS NOT DECIDED WHEN A GENERAL ELECTION SHOULD BE HELD.

Chamberlain said that the Premier Lord George had not decided when a general election should be held. He said that the Premier was waiting for the results of the election in the House of Commons, which would be held on October 17.

SPEECH HAS SPECIAL SIGNIFICANCE.

BIRMINGHAM, England, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Austen Chamberlain, the government leader in the House of Commons, in a sensational speech to the Midland Conservative Association here today, declared that the government must be continued. His speech indicated the lineup on which Prime Minister Lloyd George will make his fight for political life in the next general election and removed doubt as to whether Mr. Chamberlain as Unionist party leader, would support his chief.

Special significance attached to the speech inasmuch as the prime minister himself was said to be awaiting the announcement of the government's decision on whether to continue his speech he is to deliver at Manchester tomorrow.

ANTI-CHAMBERLAIN SENTIMENT HARDENS.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—There was considerable speculation in political circles today when King George VI. was said to have written to the prime minister as to whether the latter would raise the question of calling a general election. It was stated in Downing street, however, that Lloyd George was merely reporting on the near Eastern situation and would not touch upon domestic politics.

Discussion of the political crisis again fills the principal columns of the newspapers this morning. The king's letter to the prime minister is an increased indication of the hardening of the Conservative opposition to Austen Chamberlain's continuance as leader of the Unionist party unless he cuts loose from Prime Minister Lloyd George and the Coalition.

The Morning Post, mouthpiece of the more extreme Tories, cites this view in an editorial today. Chamberlain, it says, is putting loyalty to the premier before the loyalty to his party, and he cannot continue his adherence to Lloyd George without resigning his leadership.

The newspaper admits that the resignation of Chamberlain would seriously injure the Conservatives, but says the party finds it more and more difficult to confide in his political integrity.

Airedale Saves Life of Woman in Surf

LONG BEACH, Oct. 13.—Rex, an airedale, owned by Miss Lillian Norstall, is credited with saving his mistress' life when, while bathing in the surf, she was overcome with cramps.

The dog was also in bathing and was not far from Miss Norstall when cramps made it impossible for her to swim. Rex seemed to sense her distress. He swam close to Miss Norstall. She grasped his stump of a tail and he took her safely ashore.

Rival Factions in China Clash Anew

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13.—Hostilities have broken out between rival political factions in Fukien province, according to information received here today. The capital city, Fuchow, has been captured by the troops under General Hsu Sung Shi.

4,000 TURKS RAID; BREAK NEUTRALITY

Kemalists Violate Pledge, Swarm Into Ismid Area; General Harington Warns Invaders to Withdraw

Bands of Moslem Guerillas Attack Greeks in Thrace; Hellenic Troops Flee in Panic to Constantinople

By EDWARD J. BING, (United Press Staff Correspondent) CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 13.—The Kemalists broke their pledge to the allies today when 4000 swarmed into the Ismid area of the neutral zone as far as Taurus.

The Turks, on the eve of the day the armistice is to go into effect, entered the forbidden area at Alran and penetrated several miles to Taurus.

Sir Charles Harington immediately sent a courier by airplane warning the commander of the invaders to withdraw.

This infraction of the agreement led the allies to become apprehensive that they would have much difficulty in forcing the Turks to live up to their agreement.

General Harington was in frequent conference with allied representatives today, pointing out to them the necessity of calling an early permanent peace conference.

MOSLEM GUERRILLAS RAID IN THRACE.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(By International News Service.)—Bands of irregulars are attacking Greek outposts in Eastern Thrace, near the Bulgarian frontier, according to advices from Athens today. Greeks in Thrace are becoming panic-stricken as a result of increasing activity on the part of Turkish guerrillas and are fleeing to Constantinople.

The Turkish incursions into the neutral zone on the Turkish straits are regarded as serious by the foreign office. It is hoped, however, that the allied high commissioners will be able to straighten out matters.

CRISIS THREATENS FROM TURK RAIDS.

Hope is expressed that the invasion of the Aegean sector by Turks was due to a misunderstanding, and that Kemal will order the Turks to withdraw. If the armistice pact is broken at this time it will precipitate a most serious crisis.

M. Simopoulos, Greek high commissioner at Constantinople, will sign the Mudania armistice protocol reported from the Turkish capital.

ANGORA, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)

Soviet Russia will be given most favored nation treatment in Eastern Anatolia after a commercial treaty soon to be concluded between the Turkish Nationalists and the Moscow government. It is officially announced here.

GREEK PATRIARCH TO SEEK REFUGE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Greek patriarch will be moved from Constantinople to Mount Athos unless effective guarantees for the safety of the Christian population are given by the forthcoming Near East peace conference. This announcement is contained in telegrams sent by a mixed council of the Greek hierarchy, the foreign ministers of the allied governments, demanding protection.

Mex. Mills the authorities are proceeding with provisional plans to establish the seat of the spiritual head of the church on the slopes of the "Holy Mount," which is situated on the Chalcidic Peninsula, about eighty miles southeast of Salonika.

HARINGTON IS ACCORDED CREDIT.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Allied circles unite in giving Lieutenant General Sir Charles Harington warmest praise for his skillful handling of the difficult armistice negotiations. He had received from the British Cabinet permission to employ the fullest military measures to bring the belligerents to terms but, despite strong pressure from his own officers and continued importunities from abroad, he refused to countenance resort to arms placed in his faith it is an apt remark.

When the Mudania conference seemed headed for the rocks, General Harington addressed to Ismet Pasha, the Nationalist's representative, a stern warning, declaring that Great Britain was nearing the end of her patience. When he spoke he carried in his pocket two ultimatum, either of which meant war. One demanded immediate acceptance of the allied terms on Thrace, the other demanded that the Turks withdraw at Chan.

French Cruisers to Spread Propaganda

Passengers and Crew of Burning Ship Safe; All Transferred to Army Transport Thomas; Hulk of City of Honolulu Still in Flames

Sweeping Probe Will Be Begun On Ship's Loss

Officials of Owner Company Have No Inkling of Cause of Honolulu's Fire.

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—With definite news of the rescue of passengers and crew of the still burning liner City of Honolulu, interest at her home port centered on investigation of what caused the sea conflagration that probably will result in a $2,000,000 loss.

Officials of the U. S. Steamship Inspector's office in San Pedro promised a thorough investigation. Steamship company officers, admitting they were at a loss to guess the cause of the disastrous blaze.

From radio reports that have thus far been received, it is evident that only the fortunate circumstances of a calm sea and fair weather, together with the proximity of other vessels, prevented a terrific disaster.

Scant hopes were held out for the salvage of the burning hulk, as it is estimated that the heat of the fire will soon burst the plates of the once luxurious liner before tugs and cutters can reach the scene.

Ralph J. Chandler, vice-president of the Los Angeles Steamship company, said:

"Company officers are at a loss to hazard the slightest guess as to how the disaster originated. Preparations are being made for a most sweeping investigation."

"The City of Honolulu was equipped with the very latest fire-fighting apparatus, and every possible emergency measure must have been taken before officers and crew left the ship."

"The ship is chartered by our company and the loss will be borne by the Shipping Board."

Wireless messages received here by passengers after being taken aboard the West Farallon raised the skill and action of the City of Honolulu's crew.

FIRE STARTED IN SECOND CABIN

Captain of Burned Steamship Tells How They Fought Flames on Steamer.

WILMINGTON, Cal., Oct. 13.—The story of how fire at sea, met by a dense smoke, was conquered by radio by wireless from Captain Lester of the steamer City of Honolulu to officials of the Los Angeles Steamship company today. The message follows:

"Fire was discovered in second cabin about 4 a. m. Thursday. Due to dense smoke, great difficulty was experienced in fighting the blaze, but water was pumped into compartments as long as possible. When the engine room got hot, pumps were stopped. After the passengers had entered lifeboats, the captain, first mate and chief radio operator abandoned the ship."

"About 9:10 the Thomas received the last message: 'Abandoning ship; goodbye.'"

"All passengers were in boats by 7 a. m. They were picked up by the West Farallon about 3 p. m. The Thomas, steaming south, to the rescue, saw fire of burning ship about 7:30 p. m. reaching the scene at 1 a. m. today. She stood by, waiting until daylight to take passengers aboard from the Farallon, which had picked them up. This took some time. Passengers were cramped and brave especially the women. Passengers and crew are now safe on the Thomas en route to San Francisco. Arrange with some hotel in San Francisco for their comfort. Advise our officials there to make arrangements for transportation to Los Angeles by rail or water as desired."

"Master of Thomas concurred with me in opinion that the City of Honolulu is not worth salvage. Master of Farallon is of same opinion. Am proceeding to San Francisco."

Ruth, Meusel Open Mid-West Tour

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 13.—The barnstorming tour of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, Yankee stars, opened at Perry, Iowa today and closes October 31 at El Paso, Texas, after taking in a number of towns in the midwest and south-west, according to announcement of the itinerary today by L. J. Galbreath of Kansas City, in charge of the routing.

Soviet Officials Train Wreck Victims

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(By International News Service.)—A Russian passenger train bearing Soviet officials who were investigating charges of railroad graft was wrecked with the loss of several lives, said a Central News dispatch from Riga today.

RESCUED ARE HEADED FOR SAN FRANCISCO; DUE HERE ON SUNDAY

Freighter Faralon, First to Succor Periled Passengers, Still Standing by Burning Boat NO CLEW TO CAUSE OF FIRE

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Oct. 13.—(United Press.)—A message picked up here from the U. S. army transport Thomas, directed to the commandant at Fort Mason, San Francisco, said:

"Arrived at wreck at 1 a. m. and prepared to embark passengers but received word from Faralon that passengers are asleep and we must wait until daylight. Weather still fine. Passengers are thirty-nine women, thirty-five men, one hundred eighty-seven crew."

(Signed) "HALL."

Twenty or thirty messages, most of them reading: "Safe on Faralon," transmitted from passengers to friends here, were picked up during the early morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The freighter West Faralon which rescued the passengers and crew of the steamer, City of Honolulu, notified the Shipping Board today that, after transferring the passengers to the U. S. army transport, Thomas, she would tow the hulk of the burned vessel toward Los Angeles until met by tugs. The West Faralon gave her position as approximately 850 miles off Los Angeles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (By International News Service.)

The passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu, which burned to the water's edge in the Pacific, 650 miles from this port, were today en route to San Francisco on the United States transport Thomas.

The transfer from the freighter West Faralon, which had picked them up from small boats, was completed at 8:15 a. m. today and half an hour later the Thomas was proceeding to San Francisco at about 13 knots an hour. She reported she would arrive here late Sunday.

The transfer of passengers was completed without incident in calm seas, radio messages stated, although this involved two transfers in open boats without land in sight, once when the Honolulu was abandoned and again this morning.

A radio from Captain Lester to officials of the Los Angeles Steamship company this afternoon said that the fire was discovered in the second cabin about 4:00 a. m. Thursday. It was supposed to have been due to faulty electric wiring.

ALL IN SAFETY FRIDAY MORNING.

Friday, the 13th, dawned without its traditional terrors for the 74 passengers and 187 members of the crew of the palatial liner City of Honolulu. They were safe, after passing through the ordeals of fire and being adrift at sea in open boats for six hours.

Picked up by the Shipping Board freighter West Faralon, after that vessel had made a record run to the point in the Pacific 650 miles from this coast where the City of Honolulu became a blazing wreck, the 261 souls whose fate had been the cause for gravest anxiety spent the night as best they could on the heavily-laden outbound freight boat. Its officers and crew gave up their quarters to make the passengers as comfortable as possible.

Shortly after midnight the United States army transport Thomas arrived at the scene and took all of the City of Honolulu's passengers and crew aboard for transportation to San Francisco. The big transport, which in war time accommodated 600 officers and 2000 men, was able to take care of all in comfortable style.

RESCUE TRIUMPH FOR RADIO.

The speedy rescue of the passengers and crew of the burning liner was a great triumph for radio. Through the radio set aboard, the City of Honolulu was able to apprise the world of the plight it had brought upon them. Every vessel on the Pacific between the Hawaiian Islands and the United States was informed and ready to render all assistance possible. It enabled quick checking of positions which revealed the Thomas, the West Faralon and the Enterprise were vessels in best position to make the rescue run.

When the news came that the West Faralon had won the race and that the Thomas would carry the passengers to land, the Enterprise was able to resume her course. Throughout the day and night, radio kept the world inform of the steps in the rescue.

Private messages informed friends of the "wrecked" ones, once they were safe aboard the West Faralon.

CAPTAIN AND CREW GIVEN HIGH PRAISE.

High praise for the conduct of Captain H. R. Lester and the crew of the City of Honolulu was contained in these private messages.

Burned practically to the water's edge, the hulk of the City of Honolulu—the former Atlantic liner Frederick der Grosse and for a time the transport Huron—was still afloat at last wireless report from the West Faralon. She was expected to sink. In the event that she does not go down, either the West Faralon will tow her to Honolulu or two coast guard cutters en route here from mainland ports will endeavor to take her hulk back to Los Angeles. The loss of the vessel is estimated at $2,000,000.

So far as advices received here have indicated, the 35 men and 39 women and children making up the passenger list of the City of Honolulu suffered but little. There were 187 officers and men in the crew. The transfer to boats was accomplished without trouble in orderly fashion after flames had made abandonment of the vessel at 9 a. m. yesterday necessary.

For six hours, the passenger and crew floated about with their former liner blazing to the heavens and belching forth a column of smoke which seemed to reach a mile high. They were prepared to spend the light in the little boats as last wireless reports had indicated the Thomas and the freighter Enterprise were far away. The West Farallon was a dark entry in the rescue race, her presence in the vicinity not being known until long after the City of Honolulu's radio was still.

FARALON BEAT OWN TIME ESTIMATE
Breaking all speed records, Captain Matt Falk of the West Farallon beat by an hour his own estimate of the time required to reach the scene of the fire. His crew was ready for rescue work the moment the big freighter hove in sight of the circle of small boats which had gathered to await rescue about a mile from the burning ship.

The lifeboats were lying in a wide semi-circle and four boats from the West Farallon were immediately launched and set about picking up the women and children first.

At 2 o'clock the first boatload was lifted to the deck of the rescue ship, and by 4 o'clock the entire list was safe on board.

There was ample space in the twelve large lifeboats of the City of Honolulu for all on board, and reports by wireless stated that the abandonment of ship and the rescue were both accomplished without hysteria and in perfect order.

One baby, little Betty May Jones, 23 months old, was in one of the boats.

According to Master Falk of the West Farallon, the burning passenger ship presented an awesome and spectacular sight. At a distance of 500 yards, he said, she had the appearance of a mass of smoke and flames mountain high. Although full details have not yet been received by the Los Angeles Steamship company as to the cause of the fire, it is believed to have broken out suddenly in her superstructure and to have spread with such rapidity that firefighting was of no avail.

ROY V. Crowder, general passenger agent of the Los Angeles Steamship company, operating the City of Honolulu, who was a passenger aboard, was expected to send a special report to his home offices today.

GETTING READY TO RECEIVE RESCUED.
Arrangements were being made today by the army transport to receive the rescued passengers under the direction of Colonel A. W. Yates for the landing of the crew and passengers here Sunday.

It is probable that the Thomas will go to her usual berth at the army transport docks, although there was a possibility that she might go to the pier of the Los Angeles Steamship company.

In order that the passengers may be disembarked in orderly fashion and without annoyance, it was stated, admission to the docks will be by pass only.

It was expected at the office of Colonel Yates that the Thomas would reach here by 3 p. m. Sunday, although later advice will be received as to the exact docking time.

Captain and Crew Given High Praise

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—The Los Angeles Steamship company, operator of the burned liner City of Honolulu, tonight received a message praising the captain, officers and crew from the rescued passengers, aboard the freighter West Farallon. It read:

"Passengers safely transferred with nobody injured; express unbounded praise of the skill and heroic faithfulness of captain, officers and crew."
It bore the names of twenty-two and concluded with the phrase "and other passengers."

Yacht of Doheny Resumes Cruise

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—The Casiana, steam yacht of E. L. Doheny, oil operator, en route from Los Angeles to Honolulu, which started to the rescue of the City of Honolulu yesterday when it picked up the distressed liner "S. O. S." has resumed its former course, according to a radio message received by the Associated Press from Captain Doyle of the Casiana. The message read:

"The steamship West Farallon reports all persons on the burning City of Honolulu have been taken on board and are accounted for, and transport Thomas and steamer Enterprise near. Have been making all speed to scene of fire, but will now resume our course to Hawaii, seeing we would not arrive before Friday morning at 11 o'clock."

Third German Ship To Meet Disaster

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—The City of Honolulu is the third former German liner to figure in a mishap while sailing from a Pacific port. The first was the Mount Vernon, formerly the Kronprinzessin Cecilie and the second was the Empress of Australia, formerly the Von Tirpitz.

The Mount Vernon suffered a whole chapter of accidents soon after she came to this coast several years ago. Mysterious breakdowns were the rule rather than the exception while she was engaged in ferrying homeward from Vladivostok the Czech-Slovak soldiers of the Siberian expeditionary force and the Russian orphans marooned there by the soviet's eastern advance.

The Empress of Australia had to put back to port a few days ago when it was found her main shaft was out of line.

City of Honolulu Gutted by Flames

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—The burned steamer City of Honolulu is expected to sink during the night according to a radio received aboard the U. S. S. California, flagship of the Pacific fleet tonight from the freighter West Farallon, which rescued the liner's passengers and crew.

The radio read: "Expect City of Honolulu to sink during the night. Ship entirely gutted by fire. Am standing by and will tow her if possible but expect Honolulu to be total loss. Will transfer all hands to transport Thomas at daybreak."

Vessels Nearby Raced to Rescue

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13 (By the Associated Press).—Formerly the Hamburg-American trans-Atlantic liner Friedrich der Grosse, and later renamed the Huron when used as an American army transport during the war, the City of Honolulu, now burning at sea, was recently reconditioned for the Los Angeles Steamship Company, which placed her in the first direct passenger service with Honolulu that Los Angeles ever has had. She was homeward bound from the islands on this trip.

The fire broke out shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday morning. Within three hours the Thomas and the liner Enterprise, both more than 200 miles away, received wireless messages saying that it was hopeless to combat the flames and that the passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu were about to take to the boats. The captain, first officer, chief engineer and one radio operator stayed aboard until 10:10 a. m., and then went over the side.

Later in the morning the West Farallon, only about 50 miles to the eastward, picked up the distressed reports, evidently when the line wireless operator came on duty and the freighter headed toward the scene.

Shortly after noon the West Farallon's master, M. M. Walk, reported that he could see a mass of flame and smoke, and an hour later he told of sighting small boats. By 2:45 p. m. passengers were coming aboard the West Farallon and an hour later the rescue was completed. Although the accommodations on a freight steamer are limited, the West Farallon has plenty of food, while warm weather and a calm sea indicate that the hours spent on deck will not be a great discomfort.

Weather Fine, Says Transport Captain

ABOARD UNITED STATES ARMY TRANSPORT THOMAS, Oct. 13 (By wireless to the Associated Press).—The passengers of the burned steamer City of Honolulu were embarking on the transport Thomas from the rescue ship West Farallon at 7 a. m. The weather is fine. More details later. The above was sent to the Associated Press by Captain Hall of the U. S. Army transport. The message continued that the City of Honolulu was burned beyond repair and that it would be two days at least before any ship would be able to approach her on account of the intense heat. The message indicated that the transfer of the passengers had been effected without any particular incident.

Two messages sent by the Thomas today to army transport headquarters at Fort Mason were made public upon their receipt. The first said that the Thomas was alongside the West Farallon at 3 a. m. and the second said that it had been decided to wait until dawn to transfer the passengers, "as they are asleep."

commodations for the passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu. The second message gave the list from the City of Honolulu as 39 women, 35 men and 187 members of the crew.

Among the passengers on the Thomas is Major General William H. Wright, returned to San Francisco after relinquishing command of the Philippine department.

Alameda Citizen On Burning Ship

Charles E. Stokes, one of the passengers on the ill-fated steamer City of Honolulu, resides at 835 Laurel street Alameda. He is general agent for the Thomas Cook & Son Company in San Francisco and left his home for Honolulu three weeks ago on a business trip. He was returning on the burning ship and Mrs. Stokes left Alameda two days ago for Los Angeles to meet her husband. They have one son, Charles Stokes Jr.

POWER COMPANY EMPLOYEES HAVE MINIATURE CITY

Seattle Municipal Project
Solves Problem of Housing Workmen.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 13.—A miniature city lighted by electricity from its own plant and erected from lumber cut by its own saw mill, was recently completed at the site of the city of Seattle's hydro-electric project on Gorge creek, 100 miles northeast of here, to house employees and their families.

The first step in the project was to install the employees in comfortable quarters, which means providing homes and means for recreation. The site is 26 miles from the terminus of a branch line of the Great Northern railroad without even a good wagon road over which machinery and materials might be transported. City engineers finally decided to construct a standard gauge railroad over the mountains to the scene of their work.

A few months later engines that were to drive the mill were hauled over the new railroad and presently were delivering lumber at the rate of 25,000 board feet a day. Another few weeks and the town, with its commissary, its athletic fields, movies, library, dance hall, homes, took its place on the map of Washington.

Then a power plant was constructed to supply light and later to operate all machinery used in connection with the development. To accomplish this a timber crib diversion dam was built on Newhalem creek nearby. From this dam a 2630-foot tunnel carries the water to the power plant on the Skagit river where the generators create 3910 horsepower.

This preliminary work paved the way for the construction of a plant on Gorge creek, now about half finished, to deliver from its two generating units 50,000 horsepower of current to Seattle, representing a cost of $9,700,000. It will be so constructed, however, that with the addition of a proposed second unit its capacity will be increased to 112,500 horsepower and the cost to $13,000,000.

The ultimate problem in connection with this project, according to city officials, will be to find a market for the electrical energy thus developed. The municipally owned street railway, now buying its power from a private concern, will take a portion of the surplus, and it is predicted that, with the lower rates enabled by the municipal project, the citizens of Seattle will absorb most of the remainder.

In addition, a third unit to the project is being considered, the estimated total output then being 555,000 horsepower, sufficient it is believed to supply the needs of all western Washington. This unit, however, will probably not be constructed for many years.

News Print Case Before Publishers

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Questions pertinent to the publishing profession will be discussed by national authorities at the meeting of the Inland Daily Press Association, to be held here October 17-18.

Mrs. Florence Riddick Boys of Plymouth, Ind., who has made a national reputation for editing a woman's page for newspapers and who has been called to Washington to assist one of the political parties in directing the publicity for women voters, will speak on a non-political subject.

Charles I. Stewart, publisher of Lexington, Ky., Herald and president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, will address the meeting and take a prominent part in the news print market discussion when that is reported by E. P. Adler, chairman of the committee having that work in charge.

R. S. Kellogg of the News Print

Service Bureau, New York City, also is scheduled to speak on the print situation from the manufacturers viewpoint.

Campbell Completing $155,000 Schoolhouse

CAMPBELL, Oct. 13.—The new $155,000 building for the Campbell union grammar school is nearing completion. The architect says it will be ready for occupancy by December 1. This will relieve the crowded condition in the rooms. Enrollment this year is 550, including kindergarten pupils. This is a 15 per cent increase over last year, according to Ernest J. Cuthbertson, supervising principal. The school was two weeks late in opening this year, owing to the limited facilities. Classes began on October 9 and are utilizing outside buildings.

HEAD OF OWNERS GRATEFUL THAT ALL WERE SAVED

Radio Operators, Captain and Officers Praised For Heroism at Sea.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—Gratitude that every passenger and member of the crew of the burned liner City of Honolulu was saved, uninjured, was expressed in a statement issued here last night by Fred L. Baker, president of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, which operated the vessel. The statement reads:

"I am deeply grateful to know from the latest radio messages this evening that every passenger and every member of the crew of the City of Honolulu was saved, and was uninjured. Like all other officials of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, I am at a loss at this time to account either for the cause of this disastrous fire aboard the City of Honolulu, or for the speed with which it seems to have gotten beyond control and to have forced the abandonment of the vessel."

GRATEFUL FOR SAFETY
"Property losses, however, are of small moment when compared with the lives of passengers and crew, and it is for the safety of all of these that we feel so grateful, as well as for the fact that the sea was reported calm, and the time spent in open boats was comparatively short before the West Farallon arrived on the scene and took every one aboard."

"It is, of course, too early to make any definite statement as to our plans for the replacement of the City of Honolulu in the new service we have established between Los Angeles and Honolulu, but it may be sufficient for me to say that the loss of the City of Honolulu will not be allowed to interfere with the effectiveness of that service beyond the time which will be necessary to secure another suitable vessel."

"I feel that the most sincere thanks of our entire organization are due the United States navy for its splendid preparedness in standing by with destroyers at San Diego and with the U. S. S. Arizona at Los Angeles to go to the rescue, if needed. Also, to E. L. Doheney's yacht Casiana, for standing by the boats near the burning ship, and, while detailed reports are lacking, undoubtedly giving invaluable aid to the passengers."

THANKS FOR WIRELESS.
"Also, to the steamship Enterprise of the Matson Navigation Company for altering her course and speeding to the rescue; to the United States transport Thomas, which, with the coast guard vessel, is even now probably approaching the scene of the trouble under forced draft to give aid if required."

"Perhaps, beyond all, the deepest thanks should be expressed to those who have so perfectly made less telegraphy as to have made it possible for radio operators ashore and aloft to call these vessels from their different routes to come to the aid of the blazing ship; and in this connection we do not forget the radio operators on board the City of Honolulu, as well as her captain and officers, who were the last to leave the ship, after having made sure of getting assistance, and who took such effective steps for the safe transfer into the ship's boats of every man, woman and child."

RESCUED GIVEN NEW THRILLS IN BOARDING THOMAS

ABOARD U. S. ARMY TRANSPORT THOMAS, At Sea, Oct. 13.—(By wireless to The Associated Press.)—The feat of transferring the passengers from the West Farallon to the Thomas took some time, as each one had to go down a rope ladder with a rope around his or her waist. The Honolulu's lifeboats were stove in and sunk after all of their gear had been taken on board. From the Thomas could be seen the caving-in of the Honolulu's superstructure. One smokestack and one after-mast had disappeared when the transport got under way, and the fire was still burning fiercely. The lapping of the ocean waters against the blistering hot sides of the doomed ship sent up great clouds of steam.

The passengers were cool and collected and showed a disposition to remain with the big liner until assured that the fire could not be put out. The women were especially calm. Passengers praised the captain and crew for their coolness and efficiency throughout, particularly for the manner in which they lowered the boats under difficulties.

Passengers said that the crew showed clever manipulation in handling the boats and loading them. The problems presented by the fire and the listing of the ship were very trying, they said.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—Douglas Togan, a member of the Honolulu's steward department, apparently was left on the West Farallon when the transport Thomas took from her the others of the Honolulu's company, according to a radio message to agents here from the West Farallon.

Captain and Mate Overcome by Smoke

ABOARD UNITED STATES

TRANSPORT THOMAS, (By wireless to The Associated Press.) Oct. 13.—Captain Harry H. Lester, of the liner City of Honolulu, and a mate were overcome by smoke and flames in investigating the fire which destroyed their vessel, but quickly recovered, it was revealed on board the Thomas today.

Officers of the City of Honolulu attributed the cause of the fire to defective electric wiring in the second cabin.

Simple Way to End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Advertisement.

Reaffirm Opposition To Water, Power Act

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—The California Real Estate Association has issued a statement denying the widely-published reports that the association is or recently was in favor of the State Water and Power Act.

According to the Research Bureau of the association, the board of directors of the California Real Estate Association at the quarterly session in Los Angeles on March 25 unanimously endorsed a resolution condemning the State Water and Power Act in no uncertain terms. Since that time the publicity department of the association and its official magazine have devoted considerable attention to the reasons why the act should be defeated.

At the meeting of the board of directors at Huntington Lake, October 7, the previous stand of the association was endorsed and the opposition of the association to the Water and Power Act reaffirmed in strong terms.

Committee Plans Republican Rallyes

RICHMOND, Oct. 13.—Plans are being made by the Republican County Central committee to hold meetings at Martinez and Richmond for Senator Hiram W. Johnson, Friend W. Richardson and Congressman Charles F. Curry.

F. Galun, chairman of the committee, is to get in touch with the Republican candidates to learn if it will not be possible to get the three men together for one day before the election. Tentative plans call for an evening luncheon at Martinez and an evening meeting here.

Friends of Veale Open Headquarters

RICHMOND, Oct. 13.—Friends of Sheriff R. R. Veale in this city have opened headquarters at the corner of Tenth and Macdonald avenue, and Hall Sanders, local attorney, is actively in charge during the day and evening. The following statement was issued:

"In face of the increase in the cost of living and general expenses during the past seven years, the annual report of the County Auditor shows that there was only an increase of $635.41 between the years 1914 and 1921 in the cost of conducting the office of Sheriff of Contra Costa county.

"Tangible changes of extravagance in the office of Sheriff are reported to have been made by political enemies of Sheriff R. R. Veale but the official report of the county auditor shows that in the year 1914 the cost of conducting the office was $10,234.07, while in 1921 the cost had only advanced to $10,862.68.

"The development has occasioned greater expense and the necessity of more deputies, but in spite of this the report shows the small advance in the cost of conducting the office of Sheriff."

Prolonged absence of sunlight tends to produce pale hair and colorless eyes.

POLITICAL NOTES

Edgar S. Hurley, candidate for state senator, returned today from a visit to the California Industrial Farm for Women near Glen Ellen, where he went on a tour of inspection at the request of Mrs. J. B. Hume, president of the board. The conditions at the farm are very satisfactory and it is pleasing to note the excellent results being obtained there," said Hurley. Hurley is chairman of the executive committee of the Young Men's Republican League and was one of many prominent Republicans who attended the meeting of the organization at a down town restaurant yesterday.

It is Hurley's intention, he announces, to devote much of his time and thought in the Senate to ways and means of developing the great Eastbay waterfront at the earliest possible date.

Charles G. Johnson, Republican nominee for state senator, arrived in Oakland today to spend some time aiding the campaign of Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell, who is a candidate to succeed himself at the election November 7.

Johnson and Judge Tyrrell were close friends when Tyrrell was a senator from this district. Johnson was the first superintendent of weights and measures Tyrrell was the framer of the bill that made the weights and measures department possible and was one of those responsible for having it enacted into law.

"My personal acquaintance with Judge Tyrrell convinces me that he is the right man in the right place and that he should be returned by an overwhelming majority at the final election," said Johnson.

Nebraska Candidates Put Many Issues Into Fight

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Many and varied are the issues before Nebraska voters in the present campaign, according to statements by candidates for United States senator and others seeking election November 7.

R. B. Howell of Omaha, Republican senatorial candidate, has stressed America's foreign debt as an issue, declaring "we should insist on the payment of interest and ultimately every dollar owed by European governments."

Howell is opposed to the present Esch-Cummins railroad law, charging it prevents competition in rates, favors the farm bloc in congress and development of the St. Lawrence waterway project. He has announced his opposition to any modification of the Volstead act, and would remove limitations from the co-operative farm land banks "to the end that they compete with private loan agencies on an even basis, that farmers may benefit from better service and lower rates of interest on farm loans."

HIS ISSUES ECONOMIC.

U. S. Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock, Howell's Democratic opponent, has asserted that the issues were economic, including over-inflation, falling prices, contraction of currency, deflation of credit, collapse of commerce and what he termed "the new robber tariff, bringing increased cost of living. An attempt had been made, he said, to divert public attention from the questions of the campaign by bringing in prohibition, which, he said, was a dead issue."

Asserting that he would not vote for any modification of the Volstead act, the senator declared: "Nebraska six years ago adopted prohibition and put it in our constitution. That settled the question as far as Nebraska is concerned. Later the constitution of the United States was amended to provide for national prohibition, I accepted them when they were triumphant, and I have since supported the laws necessary to enforce them. This I propose to continue to do."

LEAGUE TAKES EXCEPTION.

The Nebraska Anti-Saloon league has taken exception to the senator's statement, asserting that the league "does not accept Mr. Hitchcock's eleventh hour profession of conversion, adding that 'we believe that he is just as wet as he has been in the past.'"

Senator Hitchcock, in addressing campaign audiences throughout the state, has attacked the Republican administration for giving "relief to the multi-millionaires by repeal of portions of the income tax law and the excess profits tax law," adding that wealthy manufacturing organizations whose profits run into the millions of dollars, now pay no more tax than small corporations.

The Rev. J. L. Bebe of Omaha, progressive candidate for United States senator, has centered his campaign in an attack on the federal reserve system, declaring he has been advocating, and which he describes as a "private monopoly," which is a "menace to the interests of the American people."

FOR S. Q. WICKS.

The party Rev. Bebe represents was organized last winter when Progressives, dissatisfied with the management of government affairs, formed a political organization of their own, declaring themselves in favor of government ownership of the railroads.

In the gubernatorial campaign charges by the Democrats that a civil administration, who law enacted by a Republican administration, has proved inefficient, have been denied by the Republicans. The law created six departments or state government, with secretaries for each, appointed by the governor or with consent of the state senate. The Democrats also have charged that the Republican state administration has been responsible for high taxes, which also has met with denial.

Charles W. Bryan of Lincoln, democrat, brother of W. J. Bryan, Charles W. Randall of Randolph, republican, and Harry Farnsworth of Yutan, progressive, are the candidates seeking the governorship.

Napa Farm Bureau Adopts Resolutions

NAPA, Oct. 13.—The directors of the Napa Farm Bureau at a recent meeting adopted a resolution requesting the highway commission to burn the weeds along the highway to prevent fire.

Other resolution requests the Interstate Commerce Commission to hold a hearing on the railway merger issue to settle the question. Still another asks an investigation by the state legislature into freight and passenger traffic on the highways with a view to putting it under state regulation. The sum of $25 was appropriated to assist in financing the action of the San Joaquin County Farm Bureau in their appearance before the railroad commission against the application of the Draymen's Association for an exclusive franchise. F. L. Gordon was elected as an alternate to represent the county bureau at the next meeting of the directors of the state federation, which will be held in Berkeley November 2-3.

Young Girls Need Care

FROM the age of twelve a girl needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

If she complains of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter make life easier for her.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for such conditions. It can be taken in safety by any woman, young or old.

Read How These Mothers Helped Their Daughters

Greenville, Del.—"I was under the impression that my eldest daughter had some internal trouble as ever since the first time her sickness appeared she had to go to bed and even had to quit school once for a week. I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound myself so I gave it to her and she has received great benefit from it. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish, as I can not say too much about what your medicine has done for us."—Mrs. W. S. HUGHES, Greenville, Del.

Wauseon, O.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then, able to do any work she wants to do—and so well and strong. We recommend the Vegetable Compound to mothers with ailing daughters."—Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Roate No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

RELICS OF GOETHE FACE PUBLIC SALE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Disputed over reports that a valuable collection of Goethe relics is to be sold at auction by the authorities of Lyons, France, the American Peace Society, through its official organ, The Advocate of Peace, is instituting a campaign against what it regards as an impending calamity to the world of literature.

According to information reaching the society, the Goethe collection was loaned by the Goethe museum of Frankfurt to a French committee at Lyons for exhibition purposes in April, 1914, a few months before the World War. The collection was seized during the war by the French government and now is held for storage costs of 500,000 francs, a sum which the Frankfurt museum says it cannot pay with German currency at its present low level.

A direct appeal to President

Millerand of France is said to have been of no avail. The sale is understood here to be arranged October 28.

Scientist Tells of Power Found in Atom

LONDON, Oct. 13.—By the liberation of the atom man may some day have under his control a force which will perform for him the entire work of the world, but if it gets beyond his control it may blow the earth and all its inhabitants to smithereens. Dr. Aston, of Cambridge, said in a lecture delivered recently before the members of the British Association. But the chances of such a catastrophe are practically negligible, he explained. Dr. Aston opened his address with a description of the infinite minuteness of the atom. "If a tiny hole were made in the side of an evacuated electric light bulb," he said, "so that the molecules of air could pass in at a rate of 1,000,000 a second, it would take 100,000,000 years before the bulb was full, and there are two atoms in each molecule of air."

WOOD ENDS TOUR; BUSINESS BETTER

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 13.—Governor General Wood returned here today after a month spent in southern islands, during which time he visited more than fifty points, going as far south as Bandakap, British North Borneo.

Business conditions throughout the southern islands are changing for the better, Governor General Wood said, adding that the order maintained by local governments at all points visited is good, and the people appear to be happy. The governor general announced immediately after his arrival that he will address the Philippine legislature next Sunday. His message will contain a number of recommendations to that body, it was said.

OKLAHOMA SYNOD SUSTAINS GUILT OF PASTOR IRWIN

Conviction On Misconduct Charge Upheld; to Appeal to General Assembly.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 13.—The conviction of the Rev. Thomas J. Irwin of Lawton on charges of conduct unbecoming a minister, and his indefinite suspension from the ministry, was upheld early today by the judicial commission of the Presbyterian Synod of Oklahoma, after a review of the findings of El Reny Presbytery before whom Irwin was tried.

Counsel for the minister gave notice that the case would be appealed to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church which meets next May in Indianapolis. The Rev. Irwin was convicted on three counts. He was found guilty of having brought disrepute on the church by marrying a couple in a bathing pool at a summer resort near Lawton. The bride and groom and the minister were bathing suits. The charges were that he swore to a false affidavit to obtain an injunction in the district court to prevent members of his congregation in Lawton from interfering with his conduct of the affairs of the church and that he had disciplined members of the congregation without due process. Irwin faces trial in the district court at Lawton on a charge of arson in connection with an alleged incendiary fire at his former church.

Charges have been repeatedly made by friends and counsel for Irwin that the whole controversy at Lawton grew out of the pastor's friendship for the late Jake Hamon, Republican National Committeeman of Oklahoma, for whose death Clara Smith Hamon was tried at Ardmore for murder.

Owners of Rammed Tanker File Suit

Alleging careless navigation, the Union Oil Company of California, owners of the tanker Lyman Stewart, now on the rocks off Lime Point, has filed suit against the American steamer Walter A. Luckenbach Steamship Company for $1,250,000. The action is said to be the largest libel suit ever filed in the history of the San Francisco United States District.

The complaint asserts that the Lyman Stewart was rammed by the Walter A. Luckenbach on October 7 while the former steamer was leaving Golden Gate for a voyage to Puget sound, and at the time she was rammed the Lyman Stewart was proceeding at a moderate rate of speed in a fog and sounding her fog bells. After the accident the Luckenbach was requested to stand by but failed to do so and refused to render assistance to the stricken steamer, according to the complaint.

Mate Awaits Trial... On Beating Charge

SEATTLE, Oct. 13.—Frederick "Red" Hanson, 250 pound mate, formerly of the barkentine Rolph, silent and scowling, is pacing a tank of the county jail here waiting for a federal grand jury to hear charges that he beat up sailors on the high seas.

Hanson was arrested a year ago. The federal court here held that the charge should be tried in California, but when Hanson arrived in the south a federal court there released him. A week ago he was picked up, on order of the court here, as he was about to go to sea on the schooner Fred-J. Wood, from Grays Harbor.

Anney M. Arneson, veteran seaman, charges that Hanson, with his huge fists, continually knocked sailors right and left on the Rolph. Arneson has gone to Alaska, but he left word with friends here that he would return in time to appear against Hanson.

MAN LOSES AUTO WHEN GARAGE BURNS

"John, I noticed an article in yesterday's paper which stated that your car was destroyed in that fire yesterday. How did the place catch fire, anyway?"

"Yes, the old bus burned up before we could get her out. The chief found the remains of a still which had been in use perhaps at the time the fire started. One of the on-lookers lived in one of the shacks which were destroyed and as he was in a drunken condition it is supposed that he was operating the still and that it exploded, setting fire to the shanty and in a jiffy the whole block of wooden buildings was in flames."

"Too bad, John. But I supposed you had your car insured."

"No, not a cent of insurance did I have. I kept neglecting to take out a policy. That's the trouble. Now, I don't know how I am ever going to get along without a car. If I buy a new one I won't be able to get any winter clothes or anything else."

"That surely is hard luck. But I'll tell you where to get your clothes. Go to Cherry's at 528 13th street and buy on credit. They have a full stock of the latest and best clothing, and the beauty of it is they allow one six months to pay."

Autoist and Wife Hurt in Collision

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Thomas Ranger, 711 Gough street, and his wife May were painfully cut and bruised in an automobile collision on Franklin street at an early hour today. Both were thrown out and later taken to the Central Emergency hospital. Ranger's car crashed into that of Fred Scott of 31 Bourbon street, which was standing at the curb, damaging it considerably. Scott was uninjured. The police arrested Ranger and charged him with violating Section 17 of the Motor Vehicle Act, alleging that he was intoxicated.

MUSIC IN HOMES ASSURES FUTURE, SAYS WELSHMAN

Says Singing of Countrymen
Keeps Alive Fires of True Patriotism.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 11.—This city has what is known as a "master of assemblies." He is John Richard Jones. Jones makes a business of handling large crowds. He trained a chorus of more than 500 voices, picked from Kansas City churches, which participated in two pageants presented in connection with the convention of the International Sunday School association, held here last June. Those who have seen Jones stand before a mighty audience, as he sometimes does in conducting "community" singing, and have watched him sway the vast throng until they eagerly responded to every caprice of his leadership agree that he has an uncanny knack for controlling crowds.

LIVES NEAR LLOYD GEORGE. Jones' basis from Festinog, Wales, which is within sight of the seaside home of Lloyd George, prime minister of Great Britain. Early in life he exhibited a love for music. His native village maintains a military concert band of 100 pieces and the Mount Morio male voice choir.

A music festival called the Eisteddfod is held annually, in which all Wales takes interest. The Welshman hopes to be able to participate in the festival some day.

Educated at the University of Wales, at Aberystwyth, Jones came to America about 15 years ago. He studied music with David Jenkins. Eben Prout and Paul Le Vallon.

Jones maintains that Wales would long ago have been crushed beneath oppression and tyranny if its people had not been able to inspire one another with song.

HANDMAID OF RELIGION. Music is the handmaid of religion, according to Jones. He holds that the high morals of the Welsh are attributable to a large extent to their intense fondness for music.

"The fires of optimism and patriotism have been kept burning in the hearts of the Welsh people by their mass singing, which is almost a daily custom in all sections of Wales," Jones explained.

Music in the home and plenty of singing will further a wholesome future for America, in the opinion of Jones.

Says Prosperity Causes Degeneration
STOCKHOLM, Oct. 13. — Prosperity is a bad thing for a race because it is one of the first steps toward degeneration is the opinion of Professor Herman Lundberg, head of the Face Biological Institute at Upsala, Sweden, and well known for his investigations into eugenics and racial biology. Prosperity brings with it the gradual elimination of the good old middle class the professor declared in a recent address on this subject, and this in any country is a sure sign of decay. "There is grave doubt," the speaker continued, "whether a people really gains any profit when millions of money begin to pour into the country. Experience, past as well as present, shows that when wealth is suddenly increased it brings endless new needs. Luxuries are demanded, lassitude sets in, and the interest in work and production falls off. Women begin to avoid maternity. All of these processes, beginning in the middle and upper classes, gradually work downward and in time destroy the race. Thus they are as much menace to a country as a powerful political enemy." It has been said the Koreans used iron clad warships against the Japanese as early as 1387.

In all the years since Foreman & Clark have been the serious rival of higher-priced clothing manufacturers---there has never been a day like this! Read this clothing disclosure.

Trade Upstairs and Save $10.

Starting with nothing, we have won 500,000 men in twelve years! Won them... and held them... 83 out of every hundred! Our total of new customers for 1922 will reach 200,000! All this growth... all this phenomenal success, was won in the face of every kind of opposition. Only the quality of the clothes, the word-o'-mouth advertising of our customers, and the clean principles at the core of this business... won the fight!

Today, this business has a million friends! Today Foreman & Clark is the big name in clothing, wherever VALUE counts. And today we are building a suit and an overcoat which will make every man who buys them remember this season forever!

While almost every other manufacturer in the clothing industry is omitting various factors in the building of suits and overcoats to meet the demand for lower prices... Foreman & Clark have ADDED still finer methods of construction! Out of the 55 operations in the manufacture of a suit of clothes, we now perform 36 of them by HAND. We put better tailoring, stronger sewing, finer shaping, and permanent style into the INNER front of every suit. We use genuine silver Hymo instead of coarse hair cloth. We use the finest linen canvas instead of cheap cotton canvas. We build EACH inner front to fit EACH suit instead of buying them in wholesale lots and taking a chance on the fit.

And NOW... we have applied the SAME, identical principles of design to the construction of an overcoat. This has never been done before. Even ordinary overcoat construction is suffering this season. Fronts, construction, tailoring, even the linings... have disappeared from overcoats in a feverish attempt to make them cheaply! Not so here! We believe in BUILDING clothes, not "throwing them together!" We have always been proud of our product... we are still prouder of our present product! 500,000 men who choose these clothes over any other clothes at ANY PRICE, seem to endorse that conviction!

MAN IN HOSPITAL PARTNER SOUGHT

Otis Eaton is at the Emergency hospital, suffering from a possible fracture of the skull and the police are seeking his partner, Fred Reichold.

Eaton sustained the possible fracture when he was felled by a blow struck by Reichold during a fight over the changing of an automobile tire, according to the police.

In a statement accredited to Eaton, by the inspectors, he said he had been quarreling with his partner for three weeks over the matter of who should change a punctured tire. Today they fought once and were separated by their employer. In the second fight several hours later he fell and struck his head on the pavement.

The two men work for the Dahl Thoms Awning company at 573 Eighth street, where the fight occurred.

POLICEMEN LEARN NEW DANCES AS BALL APPROACHES

Bluecoats Take Instruction From Girls at Theater to Perfect Steps.

When the Oakland police department assembles in new uniforms at the grand benefit ball to be given to augment the funds of the Widows and Orphans Aid Association of the department in the Municipal Auditorium Tuesday evening, there will not be a man among the outfit who is not up to the latest dance steps. The reason for this degree of torporicorean accomplishment is that for the past several evenings the members of the department have been taking lessons in the new steps from the girls of the Century theater. They assemble before each evening performance and are put through the paces.

As a rule, it was said, the officers were fairly apt pupils, but special treatment was needed in a few cases, and they are all said to be in possession of the art of handling the feet with the best of grace. They will be on hand en masse Tuesday evening and so will the Century girls, when the value of the instruction will be apparent to all.

For a decade the benefit ball of the Oakland police department has been an annual function. The proceeds go to a fund that has been created for the purpose of insuring the widows and orphans of the men who die in the discharge of their duty or while members of the department against immediate hardship and $1250 death benefit is paid to the family of each deceased officer.

Every patrolman and officer has the tickets for sale.

No Public Pranks This Semester by "Skull and Keys"

BERKELEY, Oct. 13.—There'll be no "running" of the Skull and Keys Society at the University of California this year.

The traditional initiation of the honor society, in which men students annually ridiculed co-ed customs, carried babies for found mothers, walked along busy streets in grotesque attire and otherwise performed "odd jobs" of menial nature will not be seen by the public this year.

Rumors of plans for a public initiation were denied today by both Morse Cartwright, executive secretary of the university, and Bert Crum, head of the Skull and Keys.

Because the society is alleged to have conducted itself in a manner detrimental to the university three years ago all public initiations have been banned. Instead the society will stage its rites in its "tomb" in the hill region adjoining the campus.

OGDEN H. LEES' FUNERAL HELD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Funeral services for Ogden H. Lees, recognized as one of the foremost criminal investigators on the Pacific coast, and a writer of internationally famed detective fiction, were held today from a local undertaking establishment.

Lees, who was probably better known by his former name of Otto Hecanman, died yesterday from an operation at the St. Francis hospital. He was, for many years head and organizer of the Lees secret bureau, and was formerly secretary to the late Chief of Police Lock. From his police experience, Lees obtained a wealth of material which he turned into popular fiction. He handled some of San Francisco's most famous criminal cases, including the Theodore Durando case. During the war he changed his name for patriotic reasons.

A burglar, who broke into the home of Mrs. George Burnham, wife of a United States Deputy Marshal, was frightened away when she called for help.

MAN TELLS COURT PLOT TO SLAY RATHENAU

LEIPSIG, Oct. 13 (By the Associated Press).—At the trial yesterday of the men accused of the murder of Walter Rathenau, foreign minister, Ernst Werner Techow, who had been charged with having driven the automobile from which Rathenau was assassinated, made a full confession in open court.

Techow declared that he had acted under duress, declaring that Ernst Kern, Rathenau's assassin, who committed suicide when surrounded by the police in the turret of Saaleck castle, near Loosen, had threatened to shoot him if he withdrew from the murder plot. Techow broke down completely when the presiding judge halted the proceedings and submitted him to a dramatic cross-examination.

SLAYER SUSPECT, FREED, IS FETED

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 13.—(By International News Service.)—Suffering from nervous strain, Mrs. Frances Hall, widow of the murdered Protestant Episcopal clergyman, Dr. Edward W. Hall, collapsed in her home today. She is under the care of a physician. T. M. Pfeiffer, counsel for Mrs. Hall, said she had been grieving deeply ever since the bodies of her husband and the choir leader of the church of St. John the Evangelist had been found.

NEW BRUNSWICK, Oct. 13.—While state and county officials sought anxiously today for something tangible on which to proceed in the inquiry into the murder on September 14 of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of the Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, and the choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhart Mills, friends of Clifford Hayes went ahead with preparations for a mass meeting tonight to celebrate Hayes' release yesterday.

His release and the collapse of the case of mistaken identity made out by authorities followed the admission by Raymond Schneider that his accusation of Hayes was false. Schneider was still held in the Somerset county jail today, although no new charges had been lodged against him. He was locked up as a material witness some days ago.

Authorities were admitted "up in the air" again.

The fawn-colored coat and scarf which Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the rector, had dyed in Philadelphia a few days after Dr. Hall was murdered were in the hands of a New Brunswick chemist today for analysis, the action being ordered by Prosecutor Joseph Strickler of Middlesex county.

FOUR SLAYERS ARE EXECUTED IN MISSISSIPPI

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 13.—Four negroes, a woman and three men, were hanged in Mississippi today for killing three persons. The executions were as follows: At Leakesville—Ann Knight and Will Green, for the killing of the woman's husband. At Jackson—George Leavitt, for the slaying of Ike Hubbard at Poshonatas. At Waynesboro—Jim Lang for the killing of Cleveland Rowe, white, for whose murder Lester Grandy was hanged last April. Ann Knight, was first to die. She denied guilt to the last and sang before she was hanged.

Thirteen Months Given "13" Thief

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Henry Rodinsky has 13 letters in his name, lives on East 13th street and today is celebrating his 33rd birthday, which is 13 three times. Judge Thomas C. T. Grahn also has 13 letters in his name and when Rodinsky appeared before him to be sentenced for the theft of $13 worth of lace handkerchiefs from a shop on 13th street last August 13, the judge said: "Thirteen months."

Too Much Collar Undresses Worker

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13.—(By International News Service.)—Just one inch too much of collar of an overhauled "jumper" and the hoodoo of Friday the 13th, proved the undressing of George Washington here today.

George, a workman in a local machine shop, attempted to fix a piece of machinery when the collar became caught in a line shaft.

Before help arrived George was a modern Adam but otherwise unhurt.

DOPE SUSPECT FLEADS.

Frank Magnoli, charged with violation of the state poison act,

Horseshoe Jinx For Auto No. 13 On Friday, 13th

Adam's birthday was celebrated in fear and trembling by all Oakland today.

Not particularly because of the fact that the accredited father of things human saw the light of day on Friday or because Robinson Crusoe secured a vessel for himself on Friday or even because it is "Hansman's Day" but because it is Friday the Thirteenth.

The superstitious and those who believe in taking no unnecessary chances carefully avoided walking under ladders, crossing the paths of black cats, opening umbrellas inside of their homes or offices, spilling salt, whistling in dressing rooms, humming "Home Sweet Home" or failing to pick up pins or horse-shoes.

One single exception came in the person of a driver of an automobile No. 13. He was a hardy individual who did not believe in omens, good or bad, so he started forth in his horseless carriage and found after three blocks that he had no horse but he did have a horse-shoe. The latter was imbedded in a new front tire.

Now he too believes in "coincidence."

pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Superior Judge George Samuels today, and the case was continued, to be set for trial. He was arrested several weeks ago and held to answer to the superior court on testimony of Ray West, a woman operative of the State Board of Pharmacy, to the effect that he sold her narcotics.

MAN KILLED IN 13TH STREET IN FIRE AUTO 13

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The number 13 figured prominently in the death this Friday morning of Clifford Lennon in an automobile accident.

Lennon was riding in Thirteenth street, Brooklyn, at about 12:13 "clock in a roadster belonging to a fire engine company 13, when the car was sidwiped by another and crashed into the curb. He was thrown from the car, landing on his head and was killed almost instantly.

UNLUCKY BOOZE KILLS COLLIE ON FRIDAY, THE 13TH

LINCOLN, Ill., Oct. 13.—Unlucky liquor on Friday the Thirteenth cost the life of a valuable Scotch collie here today. A jug of bootleg whiskey dropped from an automobile and broken was the cause. Pedestrians told of seeing the dog lap up the unspilled remnant. Less than an hour afterward the animal was dead, lying in the front yard of the home of H. W. Sanford, prominent prohibitionist.

Jewish Mothers Plan Benefit Ball

The Jewish Mother Alliance of Oakland will give a benefit ball at Ashmun temple, Thirteenth and Harrison streets, next Sunday evening. The proceeds from the ball will be used to benefit the European orphanage. Mrs. B. Goldberg, secretary of the Alliance, and Mrs. E. Belling, treasurer, compose the committee in charge of the affair.

FURNITURE not only administers to one's sense of beauty and fitness, to one's physical comfort, but it is a great educational factor—greater than we realize. By silent example it creates a keener appreciation of artistic things; it points clearly the good from the bad in design, in quality, in arrangement. Furniture should be selected carefully; it is that which converts a house into a home.

DOCTOR PREDICTS DOUBLING LIFE, TALK WITH DEAD

Perfecting of Electronic Theory Brings Changes,
Club Is Told.

Predictions that through the perfecting of the study of the electronic theory the span of a man's life will be increased at least 100 per cent and that eventually free and unhampered communication with the dead will be established, were made yesterday by Dr. P. A. Lacey in the course of an address before the weekly luncheon meeting of the Mutual Business Club at the Hotel Oakland.

"We are looking forward to the time when, through scientific treatment we can lengthen the span of man's productive energy at least 100 per cent and at the same time increase its quantity," declared Dr. Lacey.

ELECTRONS RUN BODY.
Continuing he said: "Electrons run the machinery of the human body. The human brain contains a billion living cells. Each cell is a worker. It throws off streams of electrons into space, making telepathy, mind-reading possible. They carry messages round the earth without wires. When Edison gets his sending and receiving apparatus, refined, delicate, enough, it is expected that we shall send messages to, and receive them from, our dear ones from the other shores of time, perhaps.

"The electron is flooding the science of medicine with light. Every living cell in the body is receiving electrons, transforming their energy for its own purposes and sending them out again. If it gets out of harmony with other parts of the body—works too hard, gets lazy, we are ill. The physician has learned how to regulate cell life up or down by discharging electrons into it.

"Disease is punishment for getting out of harmony with Nature. It would be wiser for men to run the machinery of the body so as to avoid it. However, if they must continue careless modes of life, it is something to know that medical science is advancing rapidly.

Police Are on Hunt For Alleged Forger

LODI, Oct. 13.—The police of this city are searching for a stranger giving the name of H. Fisher, who is alleged to have been a business man. J. Backels, cafe man, swore to a complaint charging Fisher with forgery. It is alleged he forged the name of the Warwick Auto Industries to the check he handed Rachel. While here Fisher posed as a solicitor for the Sacramento Bee. His pleasant ways won him friends quickly. He is a middle-aged man and well dressed.

FARMER KILLS HIMSELF.

LARNED, Kan., Oct. 13.—A. J. Umberger, 45, a farmer residing southwest of here, committed suicide at his farm yesterday, neighbors declare, by tying a rope around his neck and fastening the other end to the collar of a horse, which he frightened and forced to run from the barn. The animal dragged the man out into an open field.

Everything in Dentistry the Best

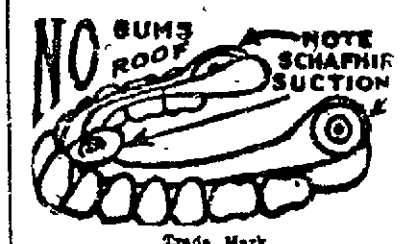

Extraction of teeth and artificial work are in a class by themselves, as both skill and special study are required to attain the acme of perfection. This is my specialty.

Many of our leading dentists will not undertake this combined work, as they realize the necessity of knowledge and conscientious attention to the patient.

Cheap dentistry, like everything else "cheap," is expensive in the long run, bargain seekers have experienced this.

Knowledge and skill should be considered always. Demand the best and pay for it.

I make artificial teeth from $20 up. My own invention, "The Roofless," is beyond compare in plate work.

What Good Is a Tub Without Hot Water?

Are you still a victim of old-fashioned water-heating devices that dictate when you shall take your baths? Let us tell you of a system that gives you instant hot water night and day, with nothing in the world to do but turn the faucet. The Ruud connects the gas and water pipes in your basement. Turn a faucet and the flow of water automatically ignites gas burners in the heater. Turn the faucet off and the gas goes out. A Ruud lasts a lifetime.

Worth looking into, don't you think so? Come in and see the Ruud and talk it over with us. Bring your wife with you.

Made and Guaranteed by Hallet & Davis

This company is one of the oldest and most reliable makers of pianos in America—manufacturers of over eighty years' experience, whose products have won one hundred and thirty-nine Gold Medals and Competitive Awards.

Our reputation for fair and square dealing is your additional guarantee of satisfaction—come in and put your feet on the pedals of the Virtuolo—feel for yourself its inspiring response—even though you are not quite ready to buy. SCHOOL PUPILS GOVERN SELVES AS SMALL CITY

Lakeview Children to Demonstrate Training at California Teachers' Meeting.

A small-scale city government recently placed in operation by the pupils of Lakeview school for the purpose of obtaining practical training in citizenship, is to be demonstrated before the teachers of the State at a meeting of the California Teachers' association to be held soon.

The government in miniature is the work of the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, who have organized the Lakeview Community League. Through this league the pupils take active participation in the affairs of the school, and receive actual practice in both government and citizenship.

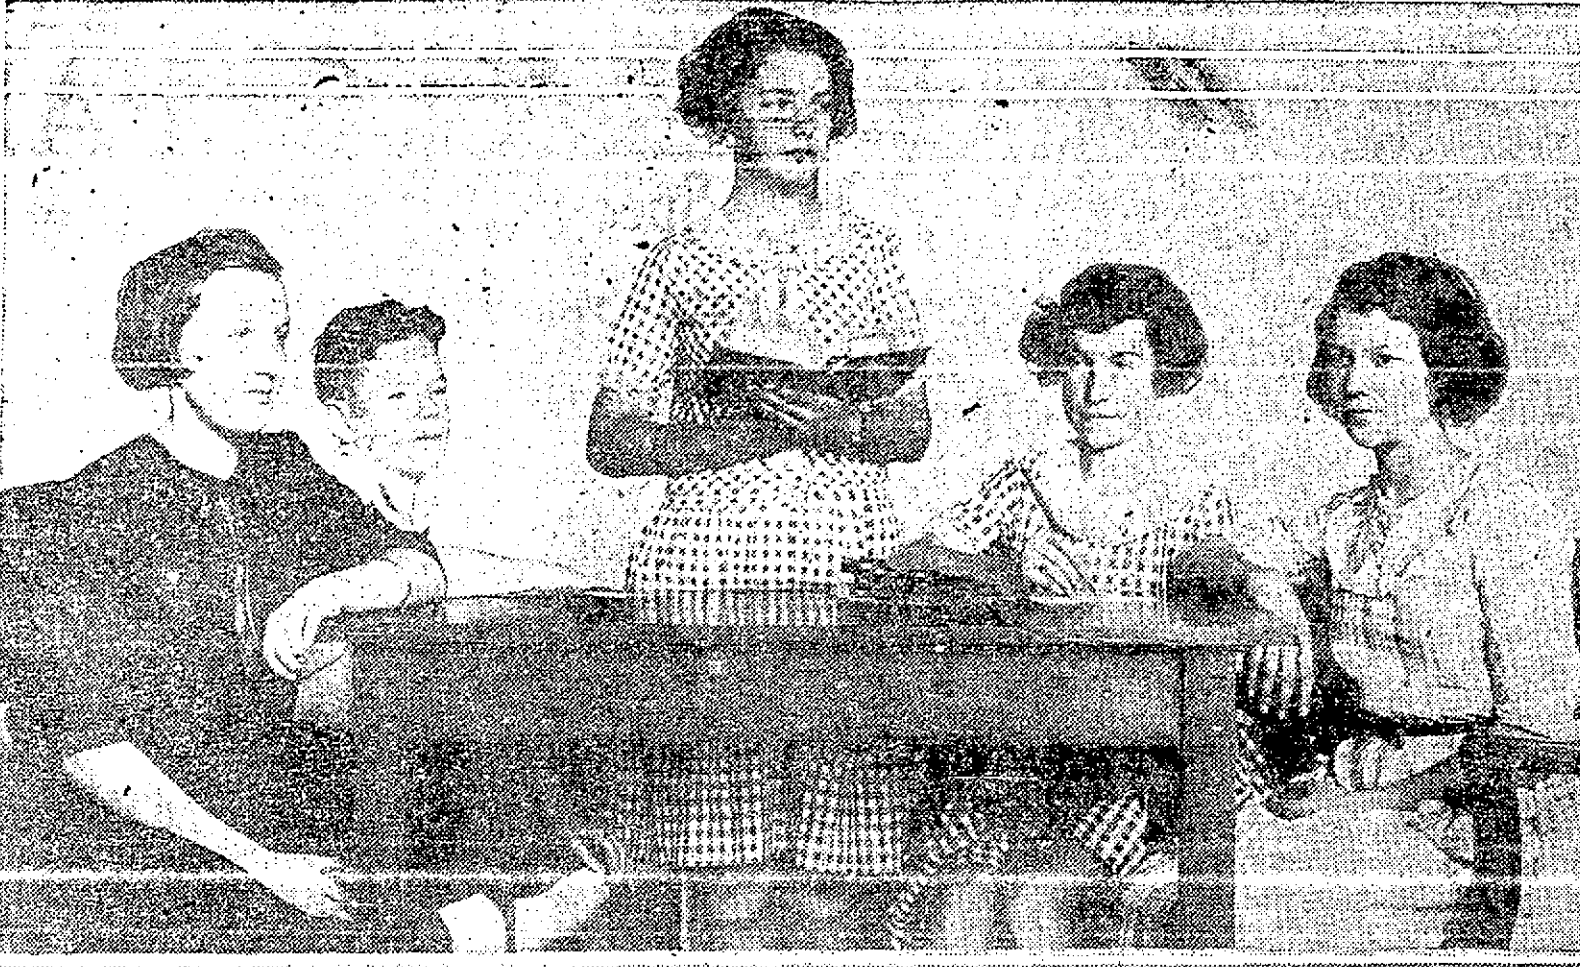

At the head of the pupils' governmental organization is President Alla Cox. Next comes four commissioners, Margaret Dievench, Dorothy Scott, Fred Maguire, and Florence Corrier.

Miss Helen A. Winchester, one of the teachers at the school, acts as faculty adviser.

Among the activities by which the league members acquire their experience in practical government are the handling of nutrition problems, the distributing of milk to the pupils of the school, the cultivation of correct posture among themselves and their schoolmates, and the encouragement of habits of cleanliness in connection with the school grounds and their surroundings; clothing and newspaper drives for the Red Cross; and the enforcing of regulations regarding the safety of the children on and off the school grounds.

Lakeview Pupils Have Their Own "City Government"

$250,000 HOTEL BEING PLANNED FOR ALAMEDA

ALAMEDA, Oct. 13.—Negotiations are under way for the purchase of corner in the heart of Alameda's business section upon which, if the deal is closed, will be erected a $250,000 hotel and office building, according to an announcement made today by O. J. Mead, Eastbay restaurant man.

Mead, while unwilling to go into details regarding his plan, admitted today that he had an option and was contemplating the purchase of a site on the southeast corner of Park street and Central avenues.

The property is listed with the most important in the city's business district and occupies 150 feet on Park street and 110 feet on Central avenue. The deal is being negotiated by Mead through the real estate firm of J. W. Deering.

PLANS MODERN HOTEL.
The prospective purchaser announced today that if he is able to obtain the property he intends to erect a six-story office building, which would include a modern hotel, the only one in the city.

"I do not want to discuss the plans at too great length just now," said Mead today. "However, I will say that I am negotiating to obtain the property, and if I do build, I intend to spend more than a quarter of a million dollars on this corner."

"In my estimation, Alameda offers greater opportunities than have been heretofore realized in the business world, and I believe that a well-managed hotel, modern in every way, would be a great success."

PLANS ARE TENTATIVE.
Mead declared that plans for the structure would be drawn by architects as soon as the land deal is completed, and intimated that actual construction would proceed at once.

He declared that the project as yet is tentative and thus would not permit discussion of the size and details of the hotel, but declared that it would occupy the large part of the proposed office building.

The restaurant man, who recently established a cafeteria in this city, refused to make any hint of the consideration which would be involved in the property purchase.

"All of the details will be given out in full just a little later," he said, "when I really gain possession of the site."

It was rumored later that the deal already had been closed, but Mead refused to comment on this.

SUIT FOR $20,000 LOVE BALM LOST

Mrs. Emily Lambert lost her suit for $20,000 for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Thomas Lambert, in the superior court today when Judge T. W. Harris ruled in favor of the defendant, Mrs. Annie Erwin, widow of an Alameda policeman.

In making his ruling Judge Harris said that the statute of limitations had a bearing on the case, in that a year had elapsed since the alleged alienation and that testimony showed that there was no affection to alienate.

Mrs. Lambert is 50 years of age and Mrs. Erwin is several years younger. The Lamberts were married in 1909 and were recently denied a divorce by Judge Harris.

Silver Tea Party To Be Photographed

ALAMEDA, Oct. 13.—All is in readiness for the novel silver tea and garden party which is to be held at McKelvey park tomorrow afternoon under the auspices of the Alameda Federation of the P. T. A. and Better Movie Committee of Alameda. The affair will be "shot" by W. W. Bell, moving picture producer, as part of a scene in the photoplay which is being filmed to advertise the merits of the city.

A silver offering, which every patron of the tea tables will donate, is to be turned into the treasury of the federation.

A program which has been arranged by Mrs. Edwin Otis, chairman of the committee in charge of the afternoon, will include vocal selections by Mrs. Edward Allen and solo dancing by Mrs. Vivienne Tweedie Wall.

MANY IN "Y" CLASS.
RICHMOND, Oct. 13.—Last night a number of men and boys turned out for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium work at the "Y." The program included calisthenics, tumbling, pyramids and indoor games. Instructor J. W. Deering was in charge.

DIVORCE SOUGHT AFTER 17 YEARS

After nearly seventeen years of married life which began in Bombay, India, Mrs. Mary I. Gibb has instituted divorce proceedings against Andrew L. S. Gibb, a retired civil engineer residing in Berkeley.

The couple were married in Bombay on November 20, 1905, when Gibb was in the service of the English army and stationed in India. They came to a parting of the ways on October 9, last, when Gibb declared that he did not care for her any longer and she might go and do as she like as far as he was concerned.

Previous to that date, Gibb had treated her with "contemptuous indifference," before acquaintances, the wife declares, and on numerous occasions had stated that he was "tired of her; no longer loved her, and regretted his marriage." Gibb admitted preferring the society of other women whom he named, the wife states. She does not ask for any alimony or property settlement.

ARMOUR REFUSES DATA ON DEALS IN U. S. PROBE

Federal Trade Commission
Fail to Induce Packing
Magnate to Testify.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—J. O. Armour, who today refused to give the Federal Trade Commission, which is investigating trading in wheat futures, the figures showing the extent of his grain trading in 1920, 1921 and the early months of 1922. Armour, on the stand Wednesday, had refused to give details of his grain trading and was excused until today.

Victor Murdock and other members of the commission tried in vain to shake the decision of the witness. Finally Murdock, vice-chairman of the commission, excused Armour and said the commission would decide later what it might do. In hearings in the east, as well as thus far in the inquiry conducted here, Murdock said, the commission had been able to obtain from every witness, except Armour, such information as it sought.

Commissioner John F. Nugent, as well as vice-chairman Murdock took a hand in questioning Armour. "Are you, alone, the only man unwilling to tell the commission

Coal Prescribed By Doctors for Severe Winter

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(By Associated Press.)—With early hints of a hard winter before the coal shortage is relieved, Chicago physicians have found a new use for their prescription pens, according to Marshall Keig, in charge of purchases and sales of one of the city's largest coal companies.

The same pens which have authorized internal warms since the name "Goldstein" became famous, are now writing prescriptions for coal. Keig said. He exhibited a large batch of various colored slips, all urging that certain consumers, because of illness or other emergencies, be preferred in coal distribution.

"This avalanche of doctors' prescriptions for fuel is something of a novelty and we don't know just how to regard it," said Keig. "However, the presumption in each instance must be that the cause is one demanding special consideration."

these figures?" Nugent asked. "I must decline to answer," Armour said.

"Of all the witnesses you are the only man who has refused to answer," Nugent continued. "Shall we report that to the senate?" "I don't believe I have anything to do with that," the witness answered.

DATA ON TRAFFIC ON COUNTY ROADS SOUGHT BY U. S.

Supervisors Pledge Co-operation
With Federal Official
Here For Survey.

Representing the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, K. A. MacLachlan today appeared before the Board of Supervisors and asked their cooperation in securing data regarding traffic conditions on some of the principal highways in the county.

MacLachlan presented a letter from L. I. Hewes, chief engineer, bureau of public roads, which stated that the data was being secured by the government, with assistance from the State Highway Commission, to determine the following:

What regulations are advisable regarding vehicular traffic and highways? What improvements can be made in highway construction? Consideration of programs for financing highway construction? The economic value of highways? Relative service by different routes?

It was stated by MacLachlan that twenty-two counties in the state were co-operating in securing this data which is being secured with the object of improving highways all over the United States.

William J. Hamilton, chairman of the board, spoke for the whole board in declaring that the fullest co-operation would be granted. Arrangements will be made, he said, to enlist the service of traffic officers throughout the county in securing this data.

In order to arrive at conclusions, MacLachlan stated that the amount of traffic and average speed maintained by vehicles on different highways was to be obtained and consideration given to suggested parallel routes to relieve congestion.

Hague Tribunal Makes Ship Award; U. S. Protests

THE HAGUE, Oct. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—The arbitration tribunal, with the American arbitrator not sitting, has awarded approximately $12,000,000 to the Norwegian government on behalf of fifteen Norwegian corporations and individuals, known as the Christiana group, for claims arising from requisition of ships by the Emergency Fleet corporation during the war.

Chandler P. Anderson, American arbitrator, instead of attending, addressed a communication to the secretary-general of the tribunal and the agents of both governments declaring in his opinion the tribunal had violated the terms of submission, and had exceeded its jurisdiction as stipulated by the special agreement between Norway and the United States signed June 30, 1921, under which the question was submitted to arbitration.

Women and Medicine

In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegard wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In those days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the questions of theories.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lydia E. Pinkham, did then, and does now relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a vegetable compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Roberts was "DEAD TIRED"

She had risen at 5:30—prepared breakfast—dressed the children for school—bathed the youngest baby—purchased the meats and vegetables—sorted the laundry—paid the grocery man and the ice man—given the house "a thorough going over"—and prepared luncheon. And dinner was still to come!

It wasn't an unusual day for Mrs. Roberts. By no means! It was just a sample of her daily routine—the routine of nine out of ten housewives. No wonder she was "dead tired."

Suddenly Mrs. Roberts stopped and took a long, deep breath. From "next door" came that clean, crisp, appetizing aroma that stirs the appetite and spells "C-o-f-f-e-e" in any language. It was irresistible. Pretty soon the Coffee Pot was singing its friendly little song in the Roberts' household, too.

That evening, when Mr. Roberts came home, he noted the difference in his wife. She had a better appetite for dinner—she seemed less tired than usual—more cheerful.

"I feel better, too," she said. "I believe it's because I sat down for a little while this afternoon and drank a cup of Coffee. You don't know how good it tasted. I'm going to drink a cup every afternoon from now on."

COFFEE

-the universal drink

Have you ever tried a mid-afternoon cup of Coffee? You'll be surprised at the way it lifts you up—how much better you feel the rest of the day. There's nothing better on a busy day than a steaming cup of Coffee.

TRIANGLE DEBATE PLANS UNDER WAY

Representatives of the universities of California, Stanford and Southern California will meet tomorrow at Palo Alto to complete arrangements for a debate this fall. This is the first entry of the University of Southern California into debating relations with the northern institutions and is the first move in the campaign opened by the University of California to make debating an activity of the Pacific coast conference universities.

The University of California will be represented at Palo Alto tomorrow by Arnold Fursten, newly appointed faculty debating adviser. He will present a number of debate proposals to the gathering and suggest that the first debate be held on November 6. The triangular debate between the three universities will take the place of the regular fall debate between Stanford and California. In addition to this debate the Berkeleyites are planning to send a team north to visit the universities of Washington and Oregon and possibly British Columbia.

Alameda Art Curators Hear Interesting Lecture on "Our Inheritance"

Mothers Lead in Eastbay Club Activities; Social Calendar Overflowing

Art Institute Expert Talks To Women

By FRANCES MONTGOMERY
"Our Inheritance" was the title of a most interesting and instructive lecture addressed to the art curators of the Alameda district women's clubs and invited guests at the home of Mrs. M. H. Lapham at 5315 Tenth avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

The lecture was given by Mrs. Jessie Fremont Hering, head of the art department of the Cora L. Williams Institute for the past five years. Mrs. Hering's subject carried the discussion of art of the early Babylonian and Assyrian periods down through Egyptian, Greek and Roman periods to the Byzantine school created by Roussan which resulted in our own modern school of impressionists and even post impressionists.

Mrs. Hering spoke of the birth of the Gothic arch in the dark ages, the creating of individuality in art by the old masters and the Greek ideals of physical perfection in their art, all as our inheritances in art. The speaker's first-hand knowledge of the great art galleries of the old world and her association with the centuries-old masterpieces which hang in these famous galleries make her lectures not a passing on of material gleaned from books, but little journeys to the art corners of the world and vivid pictures of intimate moments in the lives of the old masters.

One interesting note in Mrs. Hering's lecture was one of the manifestations of the Renaissance influence on art. At the beginning of the Renaissance the painters were idealists and painted their pictures with backgrounds of plain gold. This was before the printing of the Bible. After the Bible was printed the painters became realists and bits of landscapes appeared as backgrounds for their figures. Corregio's "Mystic Marriage of St. Catherine" was cited as an example of this change.

Mrs. Hering is a Bostonian and lived for twenty years in Italy, France and England, where she studied extensively art and art history. She has an attractive collection of old masterpieces.

Mrs. M. H. Lapham is director chairman of art of the Federation of Women's Clubs of California and is most active in securing such able speakers as Mrs. Jessie Fremont Hering to speak before the district curators of art for their instruction.

At her home Wednesday Mrs. Lapham said: "We hope to listen to Mrs. Hering again. Many years ago she delivered the same lecture as we listened to today before 17 women at a little gathering at Provincetown. Out of that meeting grew the Provincetown Art Association, now a large organization. In coming the months we expect to have many artists and art critics address our group."

From the practical roasts to the daintiest and most exquisite of desserts, the Westgate has demonstrated its ability, and what is more, it will take care of them all in one operation, have each one done to that beautiful degree so greatly desired, and still requires absolutely no watching.

Not a Fireless Cooker

The Westgate is not a fireless cooker. The food need not be heated or cooked previous to the time it is placed in the Westgate, neither are there any plates or stones to heat. It operates from an electric light socket, but is controlled by our patented automatic control, which keeps an average heat throughout the entire operation, although using electricity less than half the time. And the food cannot scorch or burn.

You simply place your meal in the Westgate in the morning, and that's the end of it until time to serve it. And you simply won't believe what it will do unless you see it—the palatable, nutritious dishes prepared at a less cost than is required to operate your electric iron, and at the same time eliminating all shrinkage.

We are willing to make the acid test. We will give you a free demonstration in your own home if you'll simply ask us or your favorite store.

Then you can see for yourself. Easy terms, too.

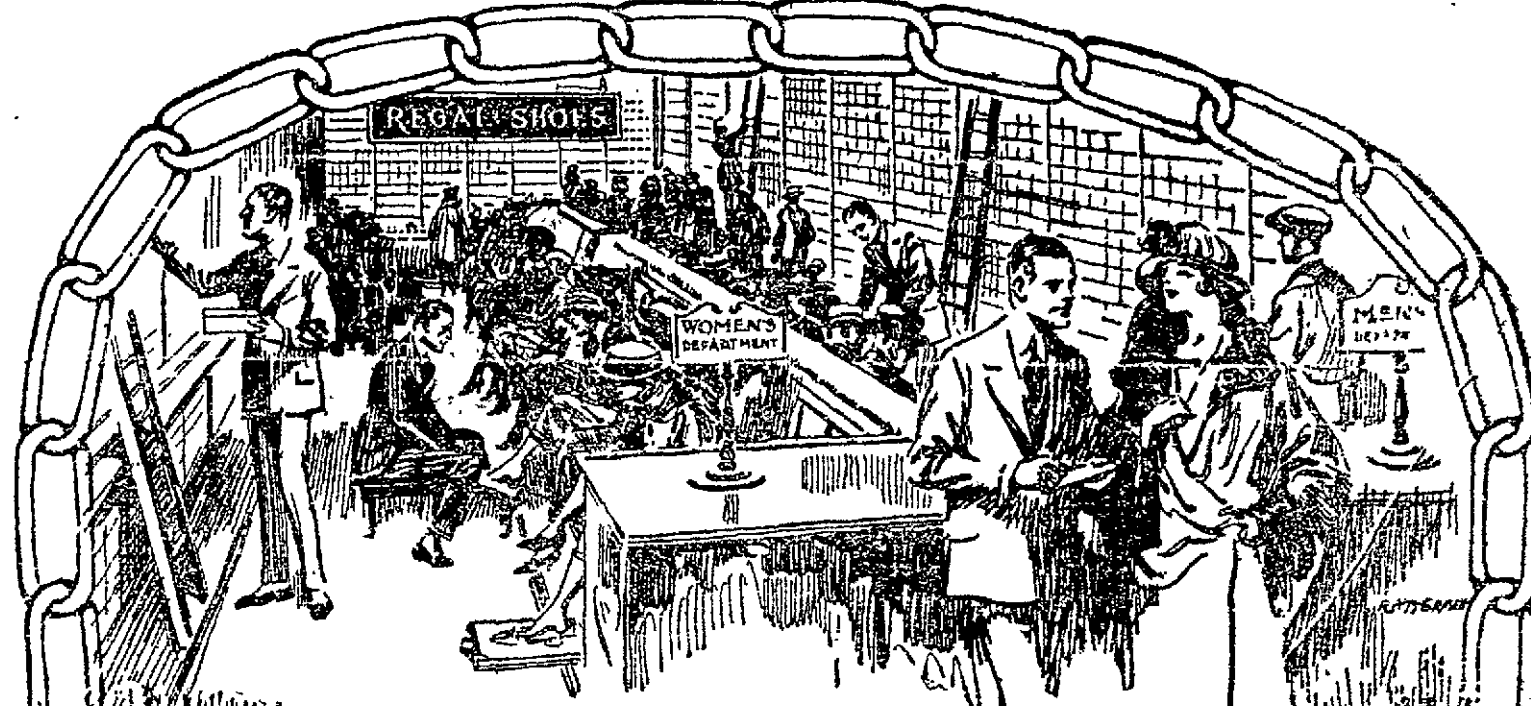

Our new store opens tomorrow. We're going to serve free dishes cooked in the Westgate and we would like to have you come in during the day and let us show you what can be done.

Straining Every Link in the Regal Chain from Coast to Coast

The sales reports just received from all stores show that every Regal Store in every city in the country, from New York to San Francisco, more than doubled the sales of last year for the month of September.

When the price of leather dropped this Spring I dropped the price of all Regal Shoes to $6.80, and immediately announced the return to our old Platform,—“One Profit, One Quality, and One Price.”

This Fall the cost of leather has increased, but the volume of business in all Regal stores has increased so much faster that we can afford to maintain our Quality, and maintain our Price.

And the Reason is 100% increase in Sales and $100,000 saved in Expense.

Concentrating the entire production of our factory on One Quality and One Price, cuts down the factory expense by increasing production and reducing factory inventories.

Selling all shoes in our stores at One Price, cuts down the Selling Expense, and makes it possible to carry a greater variety of styles with a smaller stock, because our salesmen don't have to show you the same style in different grades at higher prices.

Saving more in our Factory, selling more in our Stores, and sharing the savings by giving greater value for less money, is the reason why the Regal Chain of Stores from Coast to Coast is showing the greatest increase in the shoe business.

highway. In the selection of this site and in the plans which have been considered Palo Alto is recognizing that natural beauty which the whole state knows it possesses. Any city may build on a busy corner. There is only one which could give to a hotel the setting of the Stanford campus.

MANUFACTURERS' EXPOSITION.
Everything from ant paste to automobiles, pickles to paint, will be shown at the Eastbay Manufacturers' Exposition which opens in Oakland tomorrow. For nine days exhibits calculated to impress upon the community its industrial strength and variety will be housed under canvas for the thousands to see.

The industrial exposition is not an innovation. It may be said, though, the industrial exposition based on the idea of this one is in its youth. A year ago it justified itself and pointed the way to improvement. The crowds which attended proved there is a keen interest in the Eastbay in those things which are attracting the attention of the country to the manufacturing development which is here.

The man who would know and talk his own community may fortify himself with abundant material by visiting the exposition. He will find there no cut and dried mechanical display, no dreary repetition of things he may see in his own home but, instead, the best reflection of the art of salesmanship, a salesmanship which is selling the Eastbay to the world. He will have explained to him intricate manufacturing methods and will be entertained by music, song and dance. Above all he will be impressed with the number of things which are made in his own city and with the enterprise of the men responsible for so attractive a way of exhibiting them.

THE BOROUGH AMENDMENT.
Since the time for the filing of objections to amendments on the November ballot has passed there have been discovered and circulated some reasons for opposition to Proposal Number 9. It is one to amend Article II of the constitution to provide additional powers to boroughs which might be created within a municipality. It is argued in favor of the plan that any charter city will be enabled to provide a scheme whereby communities desiring annexation or consolidation may have the benefits of incorporation with the larger city and, at the same time, retain full control of their own local affairs. The amendment is permissible only and does not compel any city to take advantage of its provisions.

In opposition there are those who hold it would create an impossible situation in the government of cities; a recognized government within a government division and conflict in authority between city council and borough boards. A number of city experts declare this can do no more than create complications in administration.

Certain it is there are many municipalities which will not favor any annexation unless they may retain a large part of their local government. The voter will have to decide, in expressing his opinion, whether the desire of certain large municipalities to annex nearly smaller ones under acceptable conditions is worth the risk in altering the structure of municipal government.

THE SANTA CRUZ FAIR.
Tomorrow is Bay Cities Day at the "Fair so Different" which is drawing to Santa Cruz a large attendance of residents from Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Luis Obispo, San Mateo and Monterey counties. The exposition, which covers thousands of square feet of space, opened yesterday.

Farm bureau centers, county and city officials, civic associations and the representative bodies of all of the communities near Santa Cruz have united to give to the public a fair which is reflecting the wealth and resources of a district rich in agriculture and scenery. There is being shown, for instance, live stock and poultry, manufactured goods and, in picture and miniature, the attractions of mountain and ocean resorts.

There have been few fairs marked by so much enthusiasm and few which have succeeded in interesting as exhibitors representatives of so many lines of endeavor. Santa Cruz saw the fair idea grow from a modest beginning until there was established an exposition which rivals the State Fair.

Among the exhibitors are a number of firms and individuals from the Eastbay. Doubtless scores of persons from here will take the occasion tomorrow to visit the fair and show by their attendance the interest the Eastbay has in the group of counties which are showing their produce and achievements. From all accounts, the visitors will be richly rewarded.

The regular weekly reports of automobile accidents show a large number to have been due to lack of enforcement of the headlight law. Blinding headlights may be seen on the highway any evening and the observing motorist knows there is also a conspicuous violation of the law regarding tail lights.

The combined output of all establishments making ammunition is but 47 per cent of capacity. The decrease in the value of the output, in a year, is $53,773,469. Disarmament, at least, has hit the source of supply and the tools of war, in this country at least, are becoming a drug on the market.

DAILY ALMANAC

Friday, October 13.
Friday the thirteenth!!... And the first contribution to appear in the mail was B. Ware. ... He figures in that famous double play, "Postman, desk, to waste basket." ... One never can catch up to the poets. ... The moon, which but a short time ago was lighting the harvest and the highways, is now on its last quarter. ... Claudius, Roman emperor, was poisoned 54 A. D. ... Doubtless, Friday the 13th again. ... Joachim Murat was shot in 1815. ... A terrible day. ... And yet, Molly Pitcher was born on this day in 1744. ... The ground of the hillsides is all wet and squishy and the mushrooms are just dying to be with us. ... In return to the amateur who will take us out hunting mushrooms, we will furnish the paper bags.

The mushroom is a modest thing, thing,
It hides white larks and poets sing;
And when the ground is dry and bare
The mushroom isn't anywhere.
But when the drops fall on the ground
The mushroom has to look around.
With hungry men about 'tis plain
It should not venture in the rain.
Said Mrs. Bouchele to Asa Candler
"What is the name of that there scander?"

Office Tragedies.
The gentleman who writes the theatrical notes, the other day, discovered there were so many valuable possessions in his desk (autographed photographs of blondes, for the most part) he sent in an order to August, the hammer forgetting carpenter. In no time at all August placed a lock upon the desk, a beautiful lock which he extracted casually from the neighboring desk in the sport department. Everyone was pleased.
It was but yesterday the sport department discovered the theatrical section possessed a lock and key and there was loud protest.
"For five years," said the sport editor, "I have been trying to get a lock on my desk and now, look here, the very first day this theater man moves in, he gets one; it's all wrong."
"For five years," he still says, pointing to the desk which but a few days ago was robbed by August, "I have sought to have a lock put in that desk." And he believes it.

Sir: I call your attention to the fact "Chick" Barnhart sells dressed poultry in Napa. Then, too, is this little ad from the Napa Register, if it's pines we don't like them so old.

A Market Song.
O! grab your market basket,
And come along with me,
To where the grapes and peaches,
Make eyes at the celestials.
Where the cabbage and lettuce,
Have the hardest kind of head,
Tomatoes, beets and radishes,
Sport different shades of red.
O! they pramid them nifty,
And you buy them with delight,
It makes your mouth just water
At the thols of "eats" that night.
—Al. Elvey.

That Injunction.
Then up spake Justice Learned Hand,
"Tis wet on sea and dry on land."

The bird of peace is weary now,
A long time it has flown,
Here's hoping it will eat the seeds
The god of wars has sown.

Over in Rome a man was arrested for riding a donkey into church. It is getting so a person cannot show any originality without running afoul of the law. For years we have been riding our hobbies into churches and lodge rooms and the first man who chooses to make the journey, as they did in Biblical days, is brought before the judge.

Composing Room Troubles.
It is a pretty small world after all, as Babbitt would say, and things are much the same one place as another. There is, for instance, the case of the abdication papers, signed and delivered by King Constantine and which disappeared. We have never written any abdication paper, but know that should we do so each day and send them down the tube to the printer, sooner or later they would be lost.

It was only day before yesterday the Almanac disappeared after having been set in the types. It was found, however, and the printer has been recovered. It is, as we said, a small world with many difficulties in the paths of kings and kolumn conductors.

ANOTHER MELON TO CUT.

NOTES and COMMENT

New York Sun: "Readers of the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company have been able to tide over the severe period of bad times and is again in a sound and secure financial condition. In common with other industries of this section, and indeed of the entire country the sugar company has had a most strenuous, and at times disheartening, fight to breast the waves of adversity and to avert disaster. For a time, indeed, it looked as if the industry was dangerously near receivership, but fortunately a way out was found and what would have been a very great misfortune to Utah and the mountain west was avoided. Now comes the good word that the company has discounted its obligations and is again on a firm foundation."

Brooklyn Eagle: "Yes, everything flourishes in the glorious climate of California. For instance the Standard Oil Company of that state is declaring a 100 per cent stock dividend, owing to oil finds on its lands. The Standard interests learned division reluctantly, but never forgot multiplication."

Toledo Blade: French sailors who have a wage dispute with their employers have decided upon an original form of striking. Instead of quitting work they will obey to the letter every technicality in the national shipping laws. We shudder to think what might happen in this country if any large body of citizens should learn and proceed to do obedience to every law, Federal, State and municipal, which our learned legislators have laid down for our guidance and joined the rest of the Nation in forgetting promptly. That expedient might not win a strike, but it would serve to clean up the statutes of many a foolish act, passed carelessly, adopted to please some group of reforming associations or framed to pass away time that otherwise could not be devoted to poker.

Deseret News: Not only the sugar people themselves, but the entire community has cause for congratulation and satisfaction in the announcement that the Boston Transcript: "Orders issued to the police to stop the practice of 'hooking rides' are in line with the general endeavor to save the children from death in the streets. In the days of horse-drawn vehicles, some of the small boys who managed to get handhold or foothold on passing vehicles were injured, but the danger was small in comparison with that which is run by the urchin who steals a ride on a truck moving through streets crowded with motor vehicles."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

People could buy Christmas presents much better now than they can ten weeks later, but probably they want to get their toes trodden on in the holiday rush.—Watsonville Pajaronian.

Only two cities in the United States have taken Berkeley up in its challenge for a year's contest on mortality statistics—they are Gary, Indiana, and Lincoln, Nebraska. The result will determine not alone which is the healthiest city, but also which is freest from fatal accidents. But isn't that letting it go largely by default? There must be more than three cities in the United States that could make a good showing along health lines.—Stockton Record.

The announcement, made a day or two ago by the Tulare Board of Trade, that the recently-held Tulare County Fair, in Tulare, was a financial success, as well as having been successful from many other standpoints, will be gratifying news to many good, live wires all over the country and others in more distant parts of the valley. It is understood that the Board of Trade, largely responsible for the successful conduct and outcome of the enterprise, will receive something like $3,000, the sum cleared by the Fair.—Yuba Times.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

MANHOOD.
Manhood, my son, demands but this of you:
The truth where profit whispers
"tall the lie!"
A fair name which advantage cannot buy,
A hand that's quick small kindly deeds to do,
Courage enough to see the battle through,
To fall today—tomorrow rise to try,
Devotion to the flag that lights the sky,
The will, above all splendors, to be true.
Respect for women, mothers of our race!
Regard for others, howsoever they live,
Willing on earth that each shall hold his place,
Ready to take, and just as glad to give,
Bringing your best to every morning's tasks—
These, son of mine, are all that Manhood asks.

PEARLS TO BE CHEAP.
"It's a pity that pearls cannot be eaten like potatoes, and that potatoes cannot be sported like pearls," is a typical French comment on the newest communication to the Academy of Sciences. "For pearls may become as cheap as potatoes were, and potatoes as dear as pearls were."
Mikimoto, who discovered or invented the "Japanese pearl," introduced a minute fragment of mother of pearl, nacre, in a pearl oyster, which laboriously and industriously produced a pearl around the fragment as a nucleus. But a pearl containing such a nucleus could easily be distinguished from the genuine.
Now the ingenious Japanese has a secret method of producing a pearl oyster to produce a pearl without introducing the nucleus. With his communication Mikimoto presented to the Academy a pearl weighing 3.68 grams, which was pronounced to be absolutely identical with a natural pearl and containing no nucleus.—New York World.

Boiled Dinner Mystery.
They do some queer things in restaurants. Not long ago a doughnut covered with chocolate appeared. Then some jazzed squash pie by putting whipped cream on it.
But—now they've taken the vegetables out of the boiled dinner, and it is high time somebody did something. This sign has appeared late. "New England Boiled Dinner—With Vegetables."
The dinner provided by mother and grandmother each Monday—in order to use up the last bent on washing day—always contained in addition to the corn beef, delectable cabbage, golden carrots, tasty turnips, sweet peas, meaty potatoes.
We can imagine "Hamlet" without the melancholy Dane. But a New England boiled dinner without vegetables would be like a war without soldiers, like the sea without water, like cricket without tea.—Worcester Gazette.

About YOUR HEALTH

Why Aphasia Follows Some Injuries to Skull

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Presiding over the nervous system, regulating all its movements, and receiving all the sensations of the body, is the human brain. Somehow or other the intricate machinery of this organ has to do with the mysteries of our thinking activities. Just how it functions and all that it does nobody knows. There remains much to be learned about the operations of the brain. The organ consists of several divisions—a major body and several lesser portions. The part of the brain most familiar to the average person is the great mass filling the vault of the skull from the forehead to the bump on the back of the head. This is called the "cerebrum." The cerebrum is divided into two sections by a deep fissure which runs right down through the middle of the brain, from front to back. The two portions are called the "cerebral hemispheres."

The cerebrum isn't a smooth mass like a moulded form of lemon jelly. On the contrary, the surface of each hemisphere is thrown into folds and ridges called "convolutions."

When it is sectioned, the structure of the brain can be studied. It is found not to be a solid mass for each hemisphere is hollow in its interior. These cavities are known as "ventricles."

Studying the sectioned tissue, it will be observed there are two kinds of brain substance. The outer surfaces and parts are gray in color, the deep portions are white.

The gray matter is made up of millions of minute nerve cells. Our intellectual processes and the higher nerve impulses are associated with the gray matter. The more gray matter you have, the smarter you are supposed to be. When we say of a stupid man, "he lacks gray matter," we mean that in his brain the white substance predominates. This is a reflection upon his intelligence.

The gray portion of the convolutions of the cerebrum is believed to be the seat of thought and mental activity. Memory, willpower, judgment, decision, all the exalted mental processes of the human mind are thought to be centered here.

In a highly specialized school or university there are departments of history, of mathematics, of philosophy, of literature and pure science. Instruction in each subject centers in its particular department. It is like this in the arrangement of the brain. There are centers for motion, for speech, for sight, taste, for feeling and for other sensations.

This is the reason a blow on the head or other cause of injury to the skull may bring about a loss of—in some cases—only one of the senses.

For instance, a person may be unable to speak while he is seemingly normal in every other respect. Loss of memory—aphasia—is one of the common examples of which we read. When the pressure is lifted from the center affected the return to normal may be brought about.

IRISH GIRL'S AMBITION IS FULFILLED

Childhood's dreams of America as the land of opportunity are about to be realized for 13-year-old Emma Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burnett of Mayville, County West Meath, Ireland. A petition for adoption of Emma has been filed in the Superior Court on behalf of James and Rebecca Clinton, 9500 Sunnyside street, Oakland, uncle and aunt of the child.

According to information given Superior Judge Robinson today, the child's parents are wealthy residents of Ireland, where they own large farming tracts. They reside far from any large city, however, and schooling facilities for their five children are very limited.

For years little Emma wrote her uncle and aunt here expressing a longing to come to America and live. Two years ago the Clintons went to Ireland, where they visited the Burnetts. The matter was broached to the parents, who regretfully allowed their daughter to accompany the Clintons to America.

The child found the country all that she had dreamed and became determined to remain here. Arrangements were made for her adoption, the Clintons not having any children of their own. The consent of the parents was secured, and final disposition of the case at present awaits a correction in the papers signed in Ireland. As soon as they have been returned to the local courts the decree of adoption will be signed.

Last Rites Planned For Mrs. Armstrong

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at her late home 940 Fifty-fifth street, for Mrs. Medora Velvidere Armstrong, wife of Hiram T. Armstrong, retiring businessman. Mrs. Armstrong was 76 years old and had made her home in Oakland for the last 45 years. She was born in Rhode Island. Armstrong is seriously ill at the family home and will be unable to attend the last rites for his wife.

Mrs. Armstrong is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Armstrong, daughter, and a grandson Sidney J. Armstrong. Interment will be in Mountain View cemetery.

Bay Counties Club

The Bay Counties Radio club will meet this evening at the Alden branch library, Fifty-second street and Telegraph avenue. L. J. Tappan, former instructor in the Radio Corporation's school and now with Lee J. Moberg, will speak on "C. W. Transmission."

All members are invited to be present and to bring prospective members with them.

The services of several radio experts have been secured for future meetings and various radio topics of interest to all amateurs will be discussed.

Dream Comes True
EMMA BURNETT, Irish lassie, who dreamed of the day when she could live in America, and who is to be adopted by Oakland relatives.

American Girls
Only Flappers
Found in World

American flappers and their young mothers are the only flappers in Europe today, according to Mrs. Newton Woodworth, the former Mme. Gabrielle, opera singer, who with her husband has returned from a tour abroad to take up her residence at Hotel Claremont.

German "flappers" are everywhere in that country, she declares.

Shiny noses distinguish the modern French girl she comments.

Whipped cream is spoiling the waist lines of the German girls Mrs. Woodworth found. The German women indulge in the dish afternoon and evening, plain or with fruits and sweets. Thick waists and high lines for sash-corded skirts are the fashion.

Average French girls have no money to buy powder, and shiny noses are telling the story of poverty. Embroidery cleverly hand-drawn is being used to cover shabby spots in made-over garments.

Native jazz musicians are widely advertised in Paris. In safe dance hall, tea room, Mrs. Woodworth found American negroes trying to lead the native musicians who had lost their place in jazz orchestras, with pitiful results.

The Woodworths spent nearly five months in a tour of Italy, France, Switzerland and Germany. Woodworth completed his forty-third trip overseas. For seven years his wife, previous to her marriage, made her residence abroad. Mrs. Woodworth, who formerly appeared in Italian opera, gave concerts at Lake Como and Milan. In Florence the couple were entertained by Colonel Ernesto Della Seta and Countess Ferrari Corbelli.

CURB SALE ACTION IS POSTPONED

Because of the absence of Commissioner Carter, the city council this morning postponed until Monday the arguments for and against the new ordinance forbidding the sale of foodstuffs from the curb of the Free Market on Sixth street.

Large delegations were present from the Building Trades Council, the Merchants' Exchange and various market companies. There were speakers present for both sides of the question, several persons contending that the Sixth street market should no more be exempt from the food regulations than the rest of the city, and others maintaining that the farmers must have some place in Oakland to sell from their wagons.

The Building Trades Council desired final decision to be taken after the Building Trades meeting Tuesday night, but the council majority asserted that there was no reason for delay.

A communication was received from C. M. Beale, suggesting that Twenty-second street be widened and not Twentieth street. The letter was filed.

An ordinance exempting a certain Pleasant Valley tract from the angle family residence zone was passed to print. This tract is among the marble quarries near the cemeteries.

Berkeley Singer To Open Concerts

BERKELEY, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Lydia Sturtevant, Berkeley contralto, will be the first vocal soloist of the Berkeley Popular Concert series to be opened at the high school auditorium tomorrow evening. Mrs. Sturtevant will sing two groups of songs, accompanied by Thomas F. Freeman.

The Berkeley string quartet will be heard in one of Mozart's quartets. The C Major, preceded by a brief talk by Dr. Arthur Weiss on Mozart and the composition to follow. There will be violin number by Antonio de Grassi. The program will end with a stirring finale from Schumann's quartet in A Minor.

The Leley String Quartet consisting of de Grassi, Robert Rourke, Pietro Brescia and Willem Dehe, is a permanent Berkeley organization.

The Chamber of Commerce committee of arrangements for this concert series has called attention to the fact that this Berkeley Popular Concert series is entirely distinct from the educational concert series which Chamberlain has been conducting in the Berkeley schools for a number of years.

FIRE AT Y. M. C. A.

BERKELEY, Oct. 13.—An overheated range last night started a blaze in the kitchen of the Berkeley Y. M. C. A., Allison way and Alameda street. Walls of the kitchen were slightly damaged. The fire department extinguished the blaze with a loss of $25.

Auto Deaths of 1922 Exceed All Of Previous Year

Fewer Accidents and More Arrests Are Recorded By Colbourn.

There have been more deaths from traffic accidents in Oakland to date in 1922 than in the whole year 1921, according to a report tendered to Commissioner Frank Colbourn from Sergeant Charles Hemphill, head of the police traffic squad.

In general, there have been fewer accidents and more arrests in 1922, but one more fatality Hemphill's report, summarized, is as follows:

Deaths resulting from accidents 32 in 1921, 33 in 1922.
Persons injured in accidents between automobiles, motorcycles, street cars and trains 747 in 1921, 727 in 1922.

Number of accidents 1112 in 1921, 1032 in 1922.
Arrests for traffic violations 4541 in 1921, 5523 in 1922.

DEL VALLE FARM PLANS DISCUSSED

Final judgment on the plans submitted for the Del Valle farm, the pre-nuptial established near Livermore for children suffering from under-nourishment, will be passed on Sunday. Henry Meyers, architect will meet with members of the Alameda county board of supervisors officials of the Alameda County Tuberculosis society, and members of the Alameda county institutions committee at the open air institution for a tour of inspection.

These plans will be submitted for the permanent building.

The group of structures in the specifications includes an administrative building, girls' and boys' dormitories, a service building, an open air school with vocational facilities and a swimming pool.

Proceeds from the 1923 Christmas Seal Sale which will be inaugurated next month under the auspices of the Alameda County Tuberculosis Society will be appropriated to the building fund.

JUDGE FLAYS APPEAL FOR PROBATION

Surprise that Probation Officer Leonard B. Compton should recommend liberty for Lena Dolan, charged with embezzling $400 from Joe Madeira a cripple on pretense of marriage, was expressed by Superior Judge Gedree Samuels in open court today when the defendant pleaded guilty and asked that she be released.

"This is one of the most cold blooded cases I have ever heard of," said the court in disapproval of the probation officer's action. "I believe that this woman should be locked up, and the only place for her is in San Quentin."

"She deliberately imposed on this man who was longing for pity and made him believe that she loved him and intended to marry him when she had no such intention, or could not because of a husband from whom she has never been divorced. After she got his money she disappeared."

"I am surprised that the probation officer should recommend probation in this case."

The Dolan woman was recently arrested when Madeira recognized her one night in a local dance hall. She is charged with securing money under false pretenses. According to Dolan she promised to marry him and he gave her $400 to buy furniture for a home. Then she disappeared.

Tunnel Road Clear
Following Cave-in

The Tunnel road, which has been blocked due to a cave-in in the extreme eastern end of the tunnel Wednesday, will be opened to traffic by 5 o'clock this afternoon according to a statement today by R. R. Arnold, surveyor of Contra Costa county. Practically all of the fallen earth has been removed and men are now repairing the timbering in the roof of the tunnel. About ten tons of earth crashed down into the roadbed of the tunnel as a result of the cave-in.

Furniture and Comparative Prices

Unless coupled with quality furniture prices are meaningless. The only quality seen by you in a printed advertisement is the quality of ink and paper used by the printer. The unquestioned quality of the pen and ink sketches designed by some gifted genius to rivet your attention, coupled with glowing word pictures drawn by able advertising men.

These aids to good advertising are denied us. No newspaper artists or ad writers are numbered among our craftsmen. So in our simple way unaided we tell you of the construction, quality, durability and exceeding beauty of FENFORD FURNITURE.

We tell you that we make breakfast room, dining room and bed room furniture, all finished to your liking in any desired finish or color combination. We tell you that we use solid mahogany and give you our guarantee that no veneers are used to cover inferior woods and that we do not resort to plaster composition for ornamentation.

We invite you to inspect and pass judgment upon our product at the factory. We tell you that to sell at the factory for less than is charged for similar merchandise in the retail stores is as elementary as that two and two make four.

If what we tell you be true, and you are to be the sole judge why not save from one-third to one-half the money you have set aside for furniture by buying WHERE THE GOODS ARE MADE? Drive out and drive in, or take No. 8, J or K cars. Reasonable terms.

WILL CONTEST IS RENEWED FOR MURRAY FORTUNE

Relative of Deceased Sues to Prevent Use of Funds in Trust to Fight Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—An other contest in connection with the estate of the late James E. Murray, multi-millionaire Montana mining man, was filed here today. The action was brought in the federal court by Mrs. T. J. Murray, a relative of the deceased whose home is at Wilkesbarre, Pa.

The suit is against the Monidah Trust company, a Delaware corporation, W. S. K. Brown, executor of the will, and the widow, Mrs. Mary Murray. It is for the purpose of restraining the parties from paying out funds of the Monidah Trust company in settlement of claims made by contestants to the estate.

Gavin McNab and Nat Schmulwitz are attorneys for Mrs. Murray, and it is their claim that an agreement has been entered into between the widow and the executor that the contest shall be paid from the Monidah trust funds.

Mrs. Murray is a legatee of the estate, claiming to hold 1000 shares in the Monidah Trust company valued at $200,000. She fears that the value of her stock will decrease if the claims are settled from the funds of the corporation.

An interesting feature of Mrs. Murray's suit today lies in the fact that while she claims to own 1000 shares in the trust company, the face of her certificate reads 500 shares. On the reverse side, however, it is claimed James Murray himself has written "1000 shares."

Signs of Struggle

Mystify Presidio

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Military authorities here are still attempting to unravel the mystery resulting from the finding of a gold ring and a soldier's coat, covered with blood, yesterday morning in front of Ninth corps headquarters at the Presidio. The ground where the objects were discovered was trampled and bore evidence of a scuffle. The intelligence department is making a check to determine if any of the men are missing.

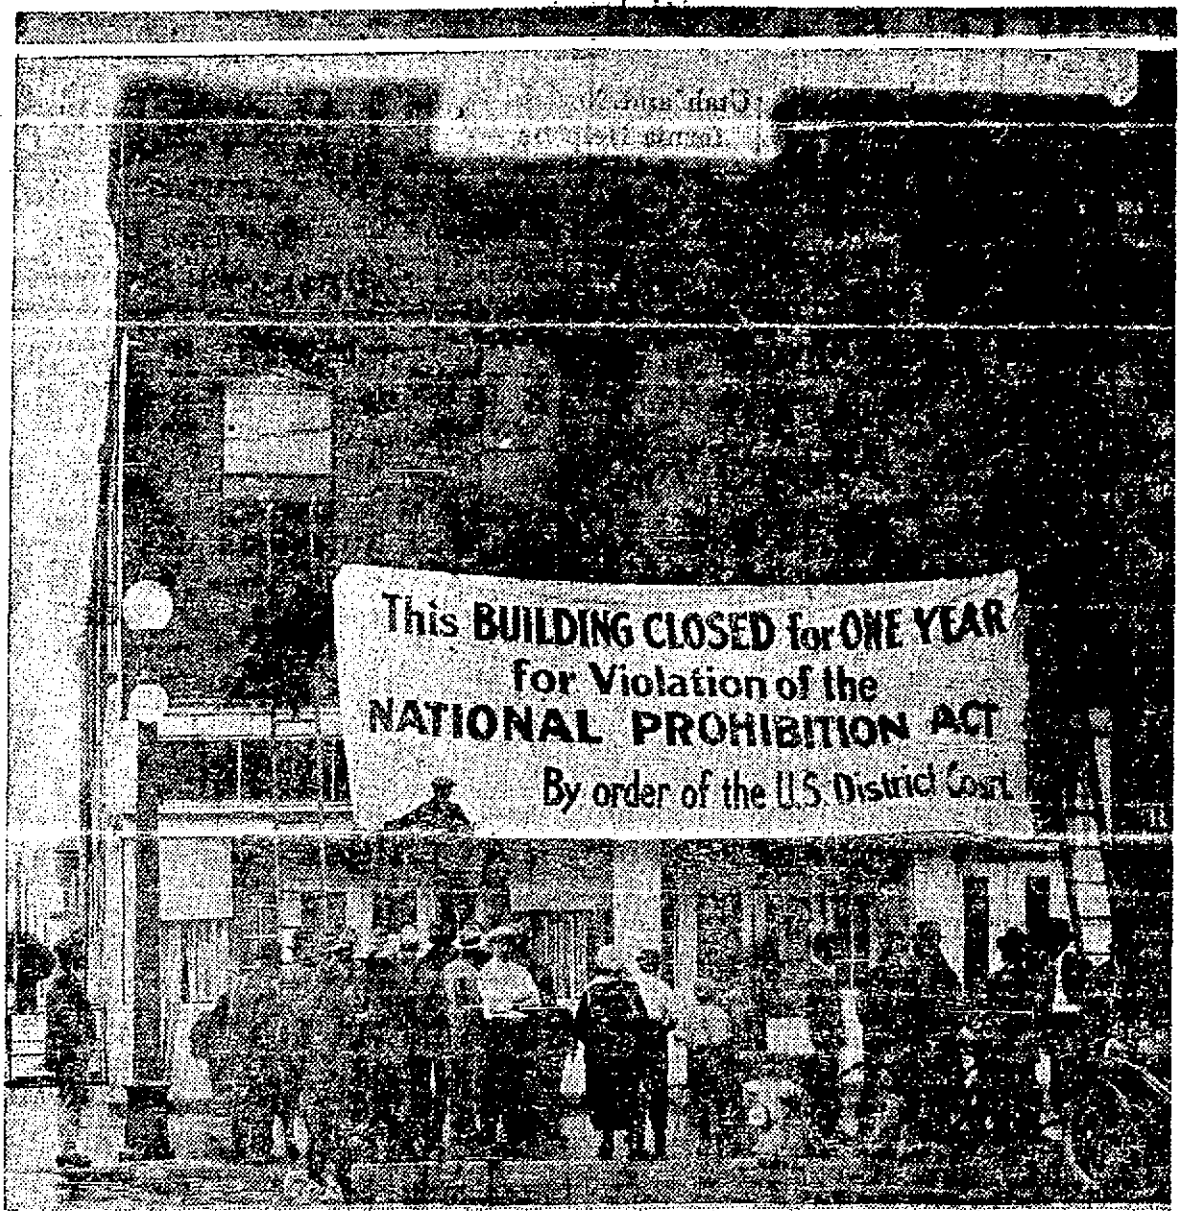

School Dramatics

Aide Appointed

The school department was today notified of the appointment of E. E. Trost as assistant director of educational dramatics in the recreation department. During the autumn and winter he will be engaged mainly in high school work. Trost directed the staging of 18 plays at Mosswood park, or 71 performances, with more than 175 pupils in the high schools.

Photograph shows banner twenty-four feet long and nine feet high as it was being raised Wednesday of this week on the Milano hotel at San Jose, for violation of the National prohibition act, thereby putting the hostelry out of business for twelve months. The banner was so large that the San Jose fire department was called upon to put it in position.

SCHOOL HOUSES TRAVEL IN CITY

Oakland school houses are carrying around the streets with a speed and abandon never before witnessed in the educational history of the city.

Twenty-two school houses are now on the move to or from chosen localities, racing where their services are most needed.

The movement of the school houses is in response to calls from various localities, whose needs are determined by reports on the number of students. For instance, one school may not have grown during the year, and its extra portable may be left in the city, while the influx of new students is heavy.

The buildings shuffled to new localities are all standard portables and when they arrive at their new destinations they will take care of big overflow school populations. The portables, according to Business Manager Don Rice of the school department, have developed a portability never suspected even by the builders. One of them has voyaged across the whole city in a day.

The schedule of schoolhouse travels, now under way, is as follows:

Emerson to Garfield, Claremont to Santa Fe, Highland to Alexander Hamilton, Emerson to Crocker Highlands, Highland to Crocker Highlands, Highland to Lakeview Annex, Stonehurst to Webster, Tenth and Campbell to Prescott Annex-Fifteenth and Campbell Claremont to Technical High School, Washington to Vocational High, Kindergarten portable, Pelita to Webster, Lazar to Frick, Emerson to McCassey, Cole (Kindergarten) to Laurel.

BANK RAID NETS BANDITS $9500

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 13.—Two automobile bandits here this afternoon robbed a negro messenger of the Livestock Exchange bank of a satchel containing $9500 in bills on a Twelfth street car.

Ordering passengers aboard the car to hold up their hands, the bandits, two white men, grabbed the satchel from the messenger and leaping from the car, escaped in a waiting automobile.

A speed boat has made the run from New York to Miami, Fla., in a better time than made by the fastest train.

WATER, POWER ACT DEBATED BY THREE ADVOCATES

Rudolph Spreckels, Francis J. Heney and Burdette Moody Talk.

The proposed water and power act, authorizing the state to operate these public utilities and defining methods by which funds may be raised for such purpose was discussed last night at a meeting at the Hotel Oakland, which was attended by about five hundred residents of the Eastbay.

Rudolph Spreckels, San Francisco banker, Francis J. Heney, Los Angeles attorney and former special prosecutor in San Francisco, and Burdette Moody, of the Los Angeles Municipal Power Bureau, were the speakers of the evening.

Spreckels declared that the water and power amendment proposes to conserve, develop and control the waters of the State for the use and benefit of the people, and that the measure originated with the League of California Municipalities.

He said: "Under this measure the Water and Power board is given only one power necessary to serve the people. Its powers are far less than those granted to the board of directors of private corporations. This board will be under the control of the people, subject to removal by the legislature and recall."

"The Water and Power board can not spend one cent, in fact no bonds can be issued except on the initiative of some community or district and then only for the specific project it is proposed to develop. Five or ten men, directors of private corporations now exercise all power and over them you have no control."

"There can be no risk of public money under this plan as the contract of municipalities or districts will protect the state. There can be no increase in taxation as the rates will carry all the costs including the interest charges."

HENEY GIVES VIEWS

Henevy declared the passage of the amendment to be necessary in the interest of the people. He said: "We have given away our timber, coal and oil. Only our water power remains of all our vast natural resources. We must retain this for the people and not permit the exploitation of these resources for private gain."

Moody gave the figures of the Los Angeles publicly-owned water and power systems and declared: "As compared with the rates now paid in this district for water and power and light, Los Angeles saves under public ownership $12,000,000. We operate at a cost far below that of the private utilities."

W. Herbert Graham presided.

The ancient device of French society was used to elect, subsequently the fleur de lys.

Prosperity Makes Certain Success of G.O.P.: Adams

By LAWRENCE MARTIN,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The facts of returning prosperity, and not the empty oratory of the campaigner, will win the Congressional election this year, John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National committee, declared today, in sizing up for the United Press the political situation from a G. O. P. standpoint.

In fact, Adams said, the election already has been won by returning prosperity.

"The outcome," said Adams, "is not in doubt. The only question remaining is the size of the Republican majority in the Senate and the House. From all indications, these will be the majorities of normal Republican years."

Reminded that everybody expected him to say something like that, and that there was nothing new or startling in such a prediction, Adams replied that this is not a campaign marked by startling political developments. It is a campaign of reason and not of emotion, he said, and the people refuse to be awayed by catch phrases.

CONDITIONS IMPROVE.

Asked to outline the basis for his great confidence, Adams said: "Business conditions are getting better every day. They have been steadily improving for months. These conditions reflect what is taking place in industrial centers and in agricultural sections. Industries are increasing their output, many of them working at the limit of capacity. Labor is in great demand at good wages."

"Agriculture is in far better shape than it was a year ago. The credit situation throughout the agricultural districts is good. Production costs are lower and prices for farm products higher."

"Therefore takes no argument or campaign oratory to convince wage earners that times are better than when the Republican party came into power."

PHRASES MISLEADING.

Democratic opposition, Adams said, is once more based on the catch phrase—"the do nothing Congress"—which, he declared, is as misleading as "he kept us out of war."

The chairman was asked his opinion of the reason for the widespread public political apathy. He smiled, as though as to say "that's easy," and replied:

"It is not a demonstrative campaign, because the people have made up their minds that their judgment was good when they placed their confidence in the Harding administration. Now they want to see that administration's work carried on and completed."

Exnicios to Fight

Texas Bootleggers

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 12.—John Exnicio, known as the "terror of the Pacific coast" and agent in charge of prohibition enforcement in Pennsylvania, admitted this afternoon that he has been ordered to El Paso, Texas, to take charge of the enforcement work there.

He has been sent to check whisky smuggling along the Mexican border, according to reports here.

Exnicio was transferred to this city a year ago from San Francisco at a time when Pittsburgh was known as the wettest city in America.

ALIMONY PLEA DENIED

Superior Judge Koford today denied a motion to relieve Edwin L. Cordy, manufacturer of barbers' supplies, of paying $25 a month alimony to his divorced wife, Elvira Panario Cordy.

According to the testimony, the wife received three pieces of property at the time of the divorce. She said two and erected an apartment house from which her net income averaged $28 a month, her only earning.

Mrs. Cordy also admitted that since her divorce she had purchased a lot on the lake front for $6000. Judge Koford decided that no showing had been made that the plaintiff in the case had any large income independent of the alimony.

League Statement

Against Amendments

Frank C. Merrill, president of the League of California Municipalities, today issued an official statement in opposition to several proposed constitutional amendments which will come before the voters at the November elections.

Merrill opposes the measures to provide for the taxation of public owned public utilities, the regulation of publicly owned utilities, and the measure to grant the State Railroad Commission exclusive power over the granting of franchises.

The proposed amendments will be numbered 10, 11 and 30 on the ballot.

Mrs. Law states that she spoke in favor of the bill, and that after outlining its good qualities she had urged her listeners to vote for it.

Permit Asked For

$60,000 Apartments

Application for a permit to construct a $60,000 apartment house in the lake district was filed today with the city building department by the Colt Investment Company. The building will be a three-story, stream-lined structure on Jackson street near Fourteenth.

CASTOR EVIDENCE AGAINST WILKENS IS STRENGTHENED

Indirect Substantiation Given to Story of Conference at Week-End Camp.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Important links in the chain of circumstantial evidence which the prosecution is endeavoring to forge against Henry Wilkens, accused of complicity in the murder of his wife Anna, were strengthened by corroborating testimony today.

The story of Robert Castor, brother of Arthur, the state's principal witness, to the effect that he had driven his brother Walter, now dead, to Felton on the Sunday preceding the killing, and that the latter conferred with Wilkens, was indirectly substantiated.

Mrs. Ethel Eckert of 20 Cordova street, a member of the Wilkens week-end party at Felton, testified that one of the owners of the camp, a man named Drumm, had told her that there was a man in a Ford there looking for someone in a yellow car.

She said she told Wilkens, about it as his car was the only yellow one, but he replied "It was a man in a Ford, he didn't want to see me. All my friends have automobiles." She was sure that this conversation occurred on Sunday.

In order further to strengthen the testimony of Robert Castor, relative to the night he claims Wilkens paid him $200, balance due for the sale of the same machine, Pierre Cappdiville, gripman on the Pacific avenue car line, living at 28 Glover street, was called. Through an interpreter he told of Wilkens riding on his car to the end of the line, either two, three or four days after the murder. He knew Wilkens by sight because his car passed the latter's shop. It was at the end of this car line where Robert Castor claims he was to meet Wilkens.

Miss Kathleen Landelle, bookkeeper, who worked for Wilkens on Tuesdays and Thursdays, testified that while his wife was suing for separate maintenance he had forbidden her to enter three buildings and that after the shooting he had instructed her to put them on the books. She also described his exhibiting $285 and giving her $100 to bank, telling her he would stop at the bank, although she warned him that he ought not carry it around.

The prosecution obtained an attachment for R. C. Drennan, one of the proprietors of the Felton auto camp, after Assistant District Attorney Golden had stated that although Drennan had attended the first session of the trial they had been unable to find him since. At the noon adjournment Assistant District Attorney Leo Friedman was reading into the records Wilkens' lengthy statement made to the district attorney prior to his arrest.

Fall sample sale for misses opens Saturday morning

Made one of the big events of the year by reason of its popularity, this sample sale which embraces all the show room samples of many of the high grade manufacturers in New York, gives a variety, a difference, and an exclusiveness that would be a great drawing card, even without the great advantage of price. Samples, to a manufacturer, are vital until he has secured the orders. After that one of a kind is useless. Therefore, he sells at a very low price. These are offered at the proverbial song. That is why we are able to quote these low prices on very high grade suits, coats, dresses. The young miss and woman of slight figure likes something different, something extreme, something new, and she can wear it to advantage. This sample sale gives her the opportunity of securing it because there is practically but one of a style.

200 sample coats

for misses at

$37, $47, $67 and $77

The miss can wear such ultra coats, such unusual styles, and these are certainly to be found in the samples. They are the blouse back coats, the wrappy coats, the straight line coats, coats of beautiful silky fabrics, lovely woolsens so fine that they rival the silks. Ormandale, velvete, Andria Superior, Bolivia, Normandy are all here, and luxuriously trimmed with fur. Some with squirrel, others with beaver, others with wolf or caracul. Not only black, which is so fashionable, but navy, brown and Hawaiian blue, too, are to be had in these beautifully made and elegantly finished coats. They are all silk lined.

300 sample dresses

on sale at

$27, $37, $47, $57

Wonderful dresses, every one of them! There are so many styles, almost 400 of them, and the dresses are so different and so lovely that they baffle description. We can but speak generally and say they are made of Poirer twill, Canton crepe, satin Canton, brocaded chiffon, charmeuse satin and black lace. Styles embrace the draped modes, the circular skirt, the irregular skirt and the straight line models. Trimmings vary from the fine pin tucking to the most elaborate embroideries. A marvelous outlay of frocks, all underpriced.

150 sample suits

for misses at

$27, $47 and $57

Chic, individual, decidedly smart. Suits dominate the Fall season. They have come into such prominence and they are so decidedly different that suit buying is active, intense. These special prices on novelty as well as tailleur suits will create great activity. Poirer twill in the tailleur, marleen and Bolivia in the novelty suits, are to be had fur trimmed. There are blouse back coats, short Jacqueline coats, and a great many of other tailored styles. Navy, black, brown, Hawaiian blue, tunisian, and kit fox shades. The furs include squirrel, beaver, mole, wolf. This is the big sale in the Misses' Shop this season.

$2,000,000 BOND SALE ENGINEERED BY ATHENS CLUB

L. A. Insurance Company Puts Up $1,500,000; First Outside Investment.

of the bonds outright to the insurance company as now proposed will save the $112,500 commission which the bond house would have charged, it is pointed out. Also, the insurance company has agreed to charge interest on the bonds only as the money is needed and drawn for use by the club in its construction program, which will mean a further saving of more than $25,000 in interest charges.

Refutation of the proposed financial plan by the club's membership tonight will mean that work will start tomorrow on the detailed plans for the building and on preparations for letting out the necessary contracts. The plans will be drawn by the architects who have prepared the preliminary ones—Bliss & Favilla, designers of the Hotel Oakland, the St. Francis Hotel, the Southern Pacific Building in San Francisco, and many other important structures. The actual breaking of ground will occur in about six months, it is estimated.

The building is to be eleven stories in height, of class A construction, and will be built of steel, concrete, brick and terra cotta. The first two stories will fill the entire block, 200 by 300 feet. The remaining nine stories will fill the block from end to end, but will be considerably narrower than the main structure. Provision will be made, however, in the foundations and steel frames, for these nine stories eventually to be widened to correspond with the two lower ones.

In its internal arrangements the building will be roughly divided into three portions. The major part of the ground floor will be used as a station and terminus for the downtown Southern Pacific lines. The remainder of the ground floor will be rented as stores. The next seven stories above will be rented for office use.

The three stories at the top of the building will be used by the club. The ninth story will be given over entirely to bedrooms, of which there will be 51. The tenth floor will contain the principal club quarters, including a portion reserved entirely for the use of women guests. The eleventh floor will house the gymnasium and swimming pool and will be covered with glass.

Ernest S. Tanner, Harrison S. Robinson and Joseph H. King, it is asserted, are chiefly responsible for the working out of the financial plan for the $2,000,000 project. In their work, which has been almost constant over a period of more than four months, and which actually began several years ago, they have been assisted principally by their fellow members on the building, membership and finance committees.

These included the following: C. W. Ducker, chairman, Herbert Houser, Warren Tucker, Jr., chairman; L. C. Fraser, chairman; A. C. Hibbard, Francis H. Woodward, Chas. Smith, Louis Shelton, Attley Hunt.

Finance—Ernest S. Tanner, chairman; A. J. Mount, Frank MacHugh, Senator Arthur H. Breed, Harrison S. Robinson.

In order to meet the technical requirements of floating the huge bond issue, a separate corporation will be formed, to be known as the Athens Terminal Building Corporation. The five directors of this corporation will hold a pool of the club's stock through a voting trust granted by the club, and will act for the club in issuing the securities.

From a financial point of view, the plan is declared by its sponsors to be exceedingly sound. Estimates made over a period of months indicate that it could be carried out as proposed, even though office rents were lower than those now prevailing in Oakland, and allowing a 10 per cent "vacancy factor." On the basis of the present "going rates" for offices in Oakland, and allowing a 5 per cent vacancy factor, the property could be freed from encumbrance in 12 instead of 20 years, it is declared, and pay 6 per cent dividends on its common stock.

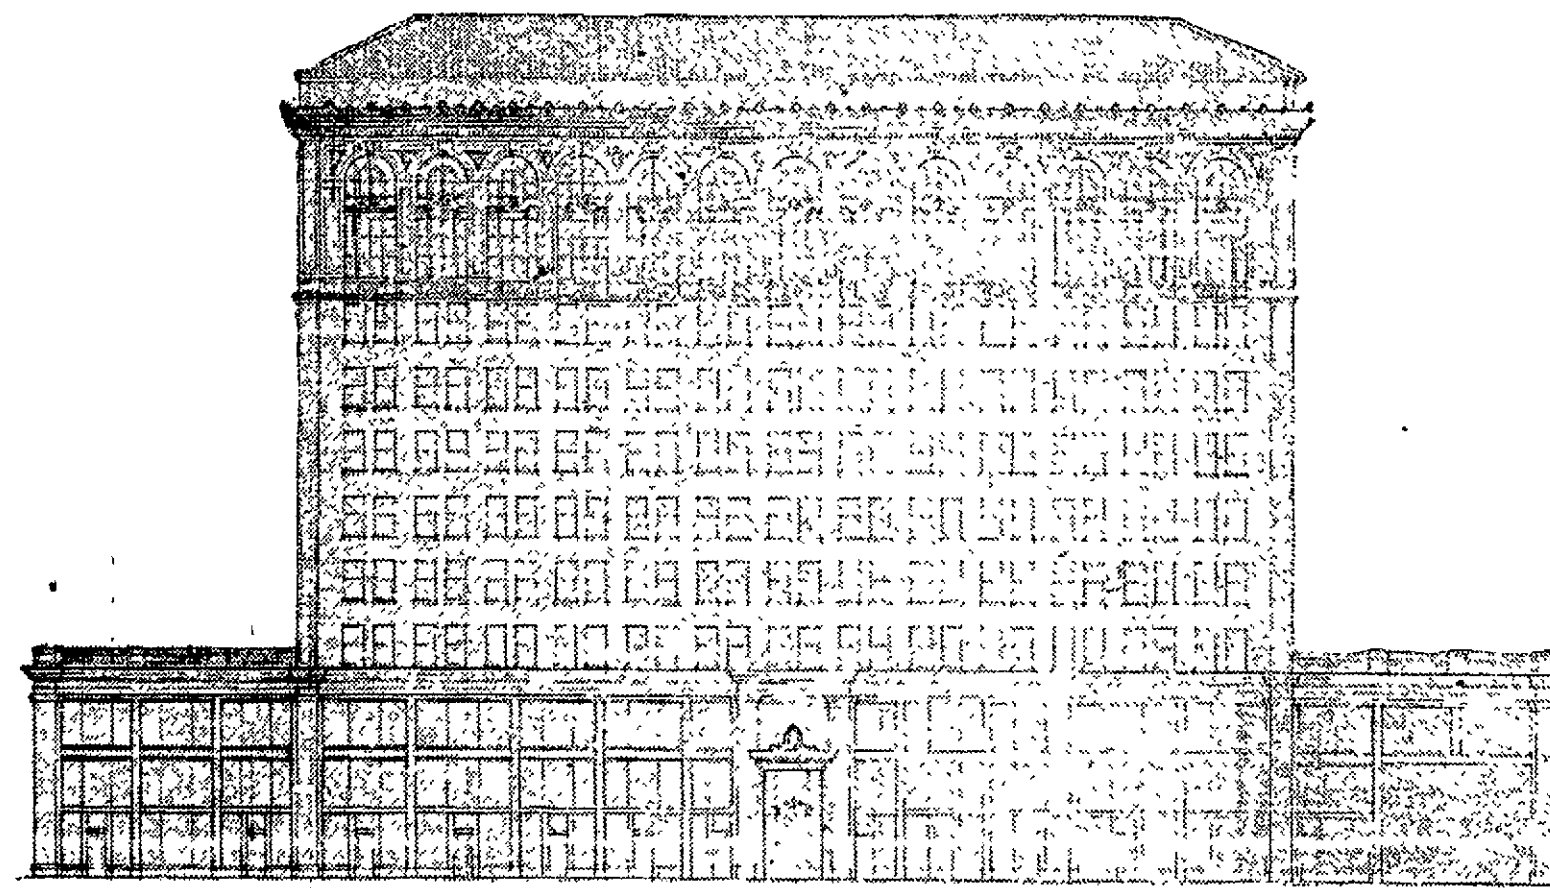

The plan as now prepared has been approved by the executive officers and boards of both the Pacific Mutual company and the Southern Pacific, and has received the signatures of officials of both corporations. It now awaits only the ratification of the members of the Athens Athletic Club before going into effect.

It will be submitted to the club tonight in detail by Joseph H. King, a member of the board of directors, at a special meeting to be held in the Ivory Ballroom of the Hotel Oakland. Stereopticon slides will be used to show features of the plans and the appearance of the proposed structure.

Praise was given by Robinson and Tanner today to Lee Phillips, vice-president of the Pacific Mutual, and Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Southern Pacific, for the manner in which they co-operated with the club officials in arranging the present financial plan for the huge project.

Athens Athletic Club's Proposed $2,000,000 Home

Eleven-story structure which local club will erect as a combination railway terminus, office building and clubhouse, and which will fill the entire downtown block bounded by Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Franklin and Webster streets. The ground floor will consist of stores and the Southern Pacific Company's suburban terminus, while the three top stories will house the club quarters. Preparations for its construction are expected to start tomorrow.

Robinson and Joseph H. King, it is asserted, are chiefly responsible for the working out of the financial plan for the $2,000,000 project. In their work, which has been almost constant over a period of more than four months, and which actually began several years ago, they have been assisted principally by their fellow members on the building, membership and finance committees.

GOVERNORS UNITE URGING STATE TO AID ROAD WORKS

Utah and Nevada Seek California Help Building Victory Highway Here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Governor Charles R. Mabey of Utah and Governor Emmett Boyle of Nevada were the guests of honor at a luncheon at the Hotel St. Francis today, at which the Victory Highway Association called to discuss ways and means for promoting the Victory highway, which it is proposed to construct through Utah and Nevada into the northern and central parts of California. Oakland will be the terminal of this new transcontinental highway.

The gathering, which was of a record-breaking size, was addressed by various speakers, who emphasized the great possibilities of development promised by the proposed highway.

The meeting was presided over by Marshall Hale. One of the immediate results of the get-together was that the San Francisco bay district undertook to furnish $50,000 of a $150,000 California contribution to assist the neighboring states of Utah and Nevada to finance the highway construction in their territory.

RAISING $50,000. The financial part of the enterprise was explained to the gathering by Harvey M. Toy, director of the San Francisco bay district of the Victory Highway Association, who said: "We have already raised $12,000 of the $50,000. The United States government will contribute 87 per cent of the highway cost in Utah and 74 per cent of the total cost in Nevada, because of the ownership by the government of 50 per cent of Nevada's land and 74.26 per cent of Utah's territory."

Governor Mabey of Utah said, in asking for the co-operation of California: "A federal bill has at last been passed to make the government share the expense of building this highway in proportion to its land holdings in our state. For every dollar we put up, the government will put up three dollars."

LIMIT IS REACHED. "This helps a lot. But we have reached our limit, having already built our own roads, as you have yours, so as to be best served. And we have incurred an indebtedness for roads to the limit of our 1 1/2 per cent of assessed valuation."

"We feel that California ought to help. We are now forced, not from desire, but by the existing road situation, to divert tourist traffic to the south, the very part of our state and into Southern California. We want the tourist to choose for himself which way he shall go. If he wants to go to Northern California, we want to send him there, but we don't want to send him there over bad roads. Help us build a road road to you and we'll send him to you."

"No state can live to itself. State lines in our western empire are only conveniences of the imagination, anyway. God placed no state lines between the states in this Union. So let's work heart and hand together for this great highway that is to join us in a yet stronger bond."

Governor Boyle of Nevada declared that his state would co-operate in the construction of the highway, but that aid from California was imperative. The people of Nevada, he said, had spent in the past six years 50 per cent per head more for highways than the people of California, and had now reached their limit in this respect.

TOURIST TRADE VITAL. The governor said: "We must not forget the ancient bonds that unite California and Nevada. The proposed highway will bring thousands of tourists to Central and Northern California. Perhaps you are not aware of the commercial importance of tourist trade. When I was in Washington some years ago I found that several European nations were actually overcoming adverse trade balances by tourist trade. Italy's imports exceeded her exports by more than $200,000,000. We found that more than $100,000,000 was paid annually by tourists traveling in that country, and that $100,000,000 was recovered in emigrants' remittances."

"The value of tourist trade to California ought not to be far behind the value of tourist traffic to all of Italy."

Both Governor Mabey and Governor Boyle demonstrated clearly that much of the automobile tourist traffic from the east, which now goes south by the Arrowhead trail in Utah and the Midland trail in Nevada, will go on to Reno and to the continental terminal at Oakland if the Victory highway is constructed.

Ben Blow, member of the board of directors of the Victory Highway Association, declared that the new highway ought to be completed in another two years, not entirely paved, but safe and comfortable. He added: "We hope that by 1924 eastern travelers will realize that California does not consist wholly of a much-advertised region south of the Tehachapies."

Adolph Mack, chairman of the fund committee, announced that the San Francisco board of supervisors had passed a resolution warmly endorsing the project.

Marshall Hale declared that: "The Victory highway will be a roadway into California along a path of gold through the land of the Argonauts."

SUSPECTS EXTRADITED. SACRAMENTO, Oct. 13.—Governor W. D. Stephens today granted extradition papers to the governor of Nevada for the return to that state of George and Lena Dillon, husband and wife, charged with the murder of Wallace Williams, near Tonopah, Dillon and his wife are under arrest in Bakersfield.

VETERANS PLAN MEMORIAL DAY

Plans for "Forget-Me-Not" Day will be formulated at a luncheon called for Saturday by George E. Shelden, who has been selected by the Oakland Chapter of Disabled American War Veterans to handle the details of the day.

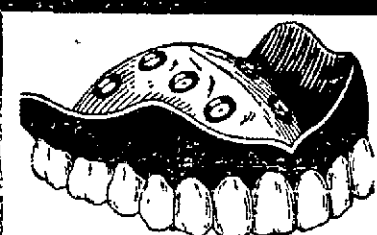

"Forget-Me-Not Day" has become a national institution and we want to see that Oakland is properly represented in its observance," reads the announcement of the luncheon.

"Everybody knows that much still remains to be done for the disabled veterans. The government has planned for governmental aid on a general scale, but practically each case has its individual needs and the government has not yet evolved a plan sufficiently flexible to take care of the individual requirements of the men."

"Our budget for the coming year calls for the moderate sum of $10,000. We hope to raise this amount on 'Forget-Me-Not Day' (November 4) through the sale of forget-me-nots on the streets. Let everyone remember their obligation to our disabled veterans and help us in this most worthy cause."

YOUTH MISSING; HAD QUIT JOB

Taking with him a bundle of rough clothing, Gerald E. Northcutt, 23, left his place of employment in San Francisco three weeks ago, and has not been seen since, according to his mother.

Mrs. C. H. Northcutt, who today started a search for her son on this side of the bay.

Despondency, brought on by the effects of a nasal abscess for which he had undergone eight surgical operations, is believed by Mrs. Northcutt to have been the cause of her son's disappearance.

According to Mrs. Northcutt, who lives at the Rex Arms Apartments, 290 Geary street, her son returned to their home for luncheon, as usual, three weeks ago, and acted strangely when he departed again for the California Notion and Toy company, 555 Market street, where he was employed. Afterward she found he had taken with him a bundle containing a pair of overalls, together with several to be seen.

Dear Sir: Mr. Robert Z. Donnell of Auburntown, came in our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats, so I sold him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on the boards that night and the next morning he found forty-four rats. And the second night he put out four more biscuits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventy-one rats in two batches, and there were lots more that he did not find.

This is some big rat tale, but nevertheless, it is so. Just thought would write to let you know that your rat paste is good.

Uncle Wiggly Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY'S RAINY DAY.

THERE was a clatter and a rush of feet up the front steps of Uncle Wiggly's hollow stump bungalow one morning. The bunny rabbit, who had just finished his breakfast, looked at Nurse Jane, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, looked at Uncle Wiggly.

"I wonder who that is?" she whispered.

Uncle Wiggly was just going to say he hoped it wasn't the Fuzzy Fox or the Wozzie Wolf when the door opened and a jolly voice cried:

"Now let's see you nibble ears!"

"I'll hop over with you and try to amuse Sammie and Susie while they have to stay in on account of the rain."

"I'll be delighted to have you," spoke Mrs. Littletail. "Perhaps they'll leave the roof on the house if you come over."

Uncle Wiggly held the toadstool umbrella over Mrs. Littletail's new bonnet. Keeping off the rain, and soon the bunny lady and gentleman were at the Littletail home. As they drew near they heard a banging, hammering, pounding noise.

"Gracious goodness. What's that?" cried Mrs. Littletail. "Uncle Wiggly opened the door and saw Sammie and Susie on the floor. Susie was banging a spoon on a tin pan and Sammie was waving a wooden sword over his sister's head.

"What are you doing?" cried the rabbit lady.

"We're playing soldier," answered Sammie. "And Susie is my prisoner and I'm going to tickle her with the sword—and—"

"But I'm going to get away if I can!" panted Susie, "and I'm beating my tin pan drum to call my soldiers to capture Sammie!"

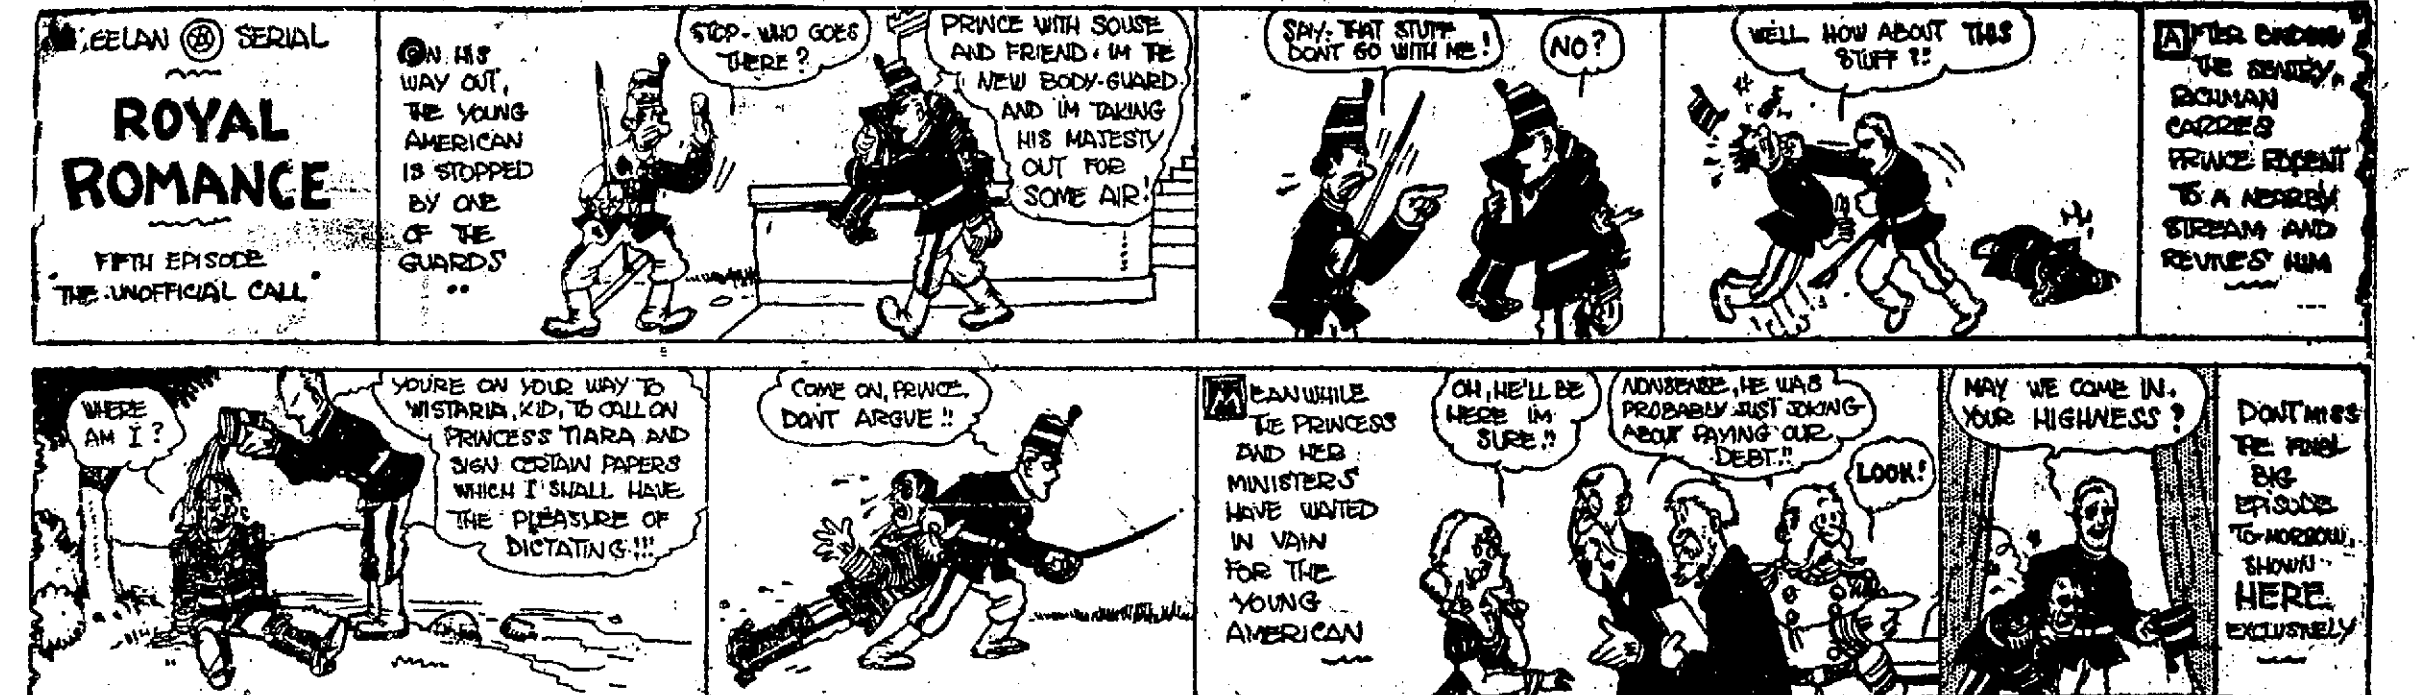

"Capture Sammie?" asked Mrs. Littletail. "Here is Uncle Wiggly come to amuse you."

"Oh, hurray!" cried Sammie and Susie. Then they stopped playing soldier and raced around the bunny, crying: "Please amuse us! Please amuse us! Please amuse us!"

"I'll do my best!" Uncle Wig-

gilly said, laughing. "How would you like to make a scrap book?"

"What is it?" asked Jimmie.

"It sounds jolly," spoke Susie.

"I think it will be fun," went on Uncle Wiggly. "And it is a quiet game. Find me two old books, Mrs. Littletail, if you please, some old pictures you don't want and some paste. Sammie, Susie and I will cut out the pictures and paste them in the books. Then they'll be scrap books—made up of all sorts of picture scraps, you see."

"I'll show Sammie and Susie how to do it, and then whoever of them makes the best scrap book will get a prize."

"Oh, that will be lots of fun!" laughed Sammie and Susie.

Soon they were busy with paste pot, old books, pictures and scissors. It was easy to paste the cut-out pictures in the scrap books, and Sammie and Susie were having fun doing this, while Mrs. Littletail had a chance to be quiet and darn some stockings.

All of a sudden, though, the door was pushed open, and in from the rain came the bad Bob Cat.

"I want ears to nibble!" he howled, shaking the tassels on his own ears. "Ears I want, and ears I must have!" he howled.

But Uncle Wiggly caught up the pot of paste. Quickly he dabbed some paste on a piece of strong paper, and, before the Bob Cat knew what the bunny was going to do, Uncle Wiggly clapped the sticky paper over the bad chap's mouth.

"Now, let's see you nibble ears!" cried the bunny.

"Oh, woe! Glop! Slub! Glub!" was all the Bob Cat could say, for he couldn't open his mouth, even to talk. And he was afraid of what had happened that out of the house he ran, and didn't nibble Uncle Wiggly at all.

"This was my lucky day—even if it rained!" laughed the bunny. Then the scrap books were finished, and Sammie and Susie each won a prize. And if the feather duster doesn't try to go swimming in the ink bottle and splash the fountain pen all up, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's paper hat.

CURTAIN CALLS

By WOOD SOANES

ORPHEUM theaters throughout that section of the United States and Western Canada bounded by San Francisco, Los Angeles, New Orleans, Chicago, Winnipeg and Vancouver, will join next week in the celebration of the Third of a Century Anniversary.

The celebration hinges on a decision arrived at thirty-three and a third years ago by two San Francisco boys whose names have since become household words as the directors of the best in vaudeville—Martin Beck and Morris Meyerfeld Jr. The decision was to start a chain of vaudeville theaters.

At that time it is doubtful if either Beck or Meyerfeld in their wildest dreams or greatest hopes expected to find themselves at the end of thirty-three years as the directors of some forty-three vaudeville houses located in fifteen states and Western Canada. They probably expected at some halcyon day to have theaters along the Pacific Coast.

Twenty Seasons Ago Today

Opera glasses, opera cloaks, opera hats and the inevitable horse-drawn cabs were very much in evidence twenty seasons ago tonight, for J. H. Stoddard, famous for romantic roles, was appearing for one night only at the Macdonough Theater in "Bonnie Brier Bush."

The first Orpheum Theater was opened in San Francisco in 1889, and shortly afterward the first of the prospective chain was first at Los Angeles. Since that time Orpheum Theaters have been established in some thirty-five cities and with the inauguration of the Junior Orpheum plan, forty-three theaters are now in operation.

Oakland first made the acquaintance of the Orpheum on the evening of September 30, 1907, when the present house at Twelfth and Jefferson streets was opened. The opening of the Orpheum marked a new epoch in Oakland's theatrical history, and the theater was uniformly considered as the last word in theatrical architecture.

Fifteen years have elapsed since that eventful opening and many changes have been made in the personnel of the theater. As a matter of fact there are but two survivors of the passing years—Leon Kowalski, director of the orchestra, and Frank Casey, stage manager. These two veterans boast that the number of performances they have missed in the past fifteen years is negligible.

Strange Case of Weeks vs. Weeks

Professor Walter Scott Weeks: "No, I have not resigned my chair to take up play-acting. In fact, I know nothing of acting."

Actor Walter Scott Weeks, who indeed, I am not teaching mining at the university. In fact, I know nothing about mining.

All of which is the result of Walter Scott Weeks pushing himself into the limelight through the medium of a splendid interpretation of "Experience" in the play of that name at the Fulton Theater. Weeks, who is a newcomer at the theater, won considerable attention from the reviewers.

When the students at the university of California read the notices they immediately thought of the only Walter Scott Weeks they knew—namely, and to wit, the distinguished associate in the college of mining. They began to chaff Professor Weeks on his double life.

Not until today did Professor Weeks, who is not greatly interested in things theatrical, realize that the Walter Scott Weeks for whom he was mistaken has a perfect right to the name, although the two men are not relatives—in fact, have never even heard of each other.

"Well, I can't complain as long as Weeks is a good actor and not a comedian," opined the professor. "So long as Professor Weeks is a person of some importance in his own line of work, I can see no source of complaint for me," parries Actor Weeks.

And there you are.

Exits and Entrances

Today is Friday, the Thirteenth, but no actor needs to be reminded of the fact. He is fully resigned to his fate. He knows full well that his razor would slip this morning and court plaster would adorn his face, and he knows that the music for his act will be "terrible"; that he will not be given the right cues; that there will be a "poor house" and many other "thats." If all of these things do not happen he will be disappointed.

Frank Casey, stage manager at the Orpheum, is preparing to celebrate Anniversary Week in a heady manner. He will purchase a new cap. In fifteen years Casey has struggled along with three caps, and the third is just as good.

Ben Ervay, popular Oakland actor, has returned to the Wilkes Alcazar Theater across the bay after an absence of several months.

Alexander is now a "world's master psychologist," several years ago he set Oakland by the heels with his mind-reading act, and at that time he was "A White Mahatma." Alexander packed the Macdonough Theater for weeks with his novelty, and this season he is booked for the local Pantages. His opening date has not yet been announced.

Speaking of film stars, which, of course, nobody was, Midge Kennedy has gone back to her first love. She is being starred in Frank Craven's new play, "Spite Corner," which recently started a run at the Little Theater in New York under the sponsorship of John Golden, producer of "Three Wise Fools," "The First Year" and other hits.

Tom Wise is now being featured in "Three Wise Fools." His last visit to Oakland was as "Cappy Ricks" in the Peter B. Kyne offering.

Wilkins to Open Defense Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—After a day's adjournment, the trial of Henry Wilkins, local garage man, charged with complicity in the murder of his wife who was shot and killed in a "hold up" on the night of Decoration Day, was resumed today before Judge Louis Ward in superior court.

With only a few more witnesses to call, the attorneys for the state predicted that they would complete their case today, and that the defense would take up their side Monday. There will be no session tomorrow, as Attorney Frank J. Murphy and William Herron are to appear in another court on habeas corpus proceedings.

CENTRAL RULE OF INDIVIDUALS IS DECLARED ERROR

Insurance Man Points Out Evils at Rotary Club Lunch.

"The time has come when we must put an end to attempts to secure centralized governmental control of our actions to the exclusion of individualism. We must put a stop to endeavors by the individuals to secure through governmental agencies what man has failed to earn by individual effort and what he is not entitled to unless he does earn it."

This was the declaration of J. R. Maloney, San Francisco insurance man, who addressed the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Oakland Rotary Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday. Maloney was appealing to business men to present a unified endeavor to combat what he termed the "ill effect of the nation-wide sweep of state socialism and state radicalism."

Pointing to the many attempts made at Sacramento to pass laws which would bring about state control of lines of business effort now enjoyed by individuals, Maloney said, "All I ask is an honest unbiased jury at Sacramento, free from the taint of I. W. Wism, anarchy and socialism."

Maloney traced the history of insurance and stated that it "forms the basis of all industrial credit." He then gave numerous illustrations of states which have passed laws detrimental to the business in that they were directed toward the state functioning in the insurance field, and declared that all such attempts have resulted disastrously for the states in question.

IRON MEN FACE HEARING UPON BRIBERY CHARGE

Federal Agent Alleged to Have Been Offered $5000 in S. F. Tax Inquiry.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—Martin and Joseph Levin, proprietors of Levin & Sons Iron and Metal Yard, 2201 Third street, will be given a hearing before Federal Commissioner Francis Krull late today on a bribery charge, said to involve $5000.

The Levins who are brothers, were arrested yesterday by United States Deputy Marshal Isaac W. Grover a few hours after they are alleged to have offered a bribe of $5000 to Agent Raymond M. Wesley of the Internal Revenue department. They are said to have given Wesley money while the government official was going over their books relative to compiling a statement of taxes due from the firm covering the period from November 19, 1912, to December, 1918.

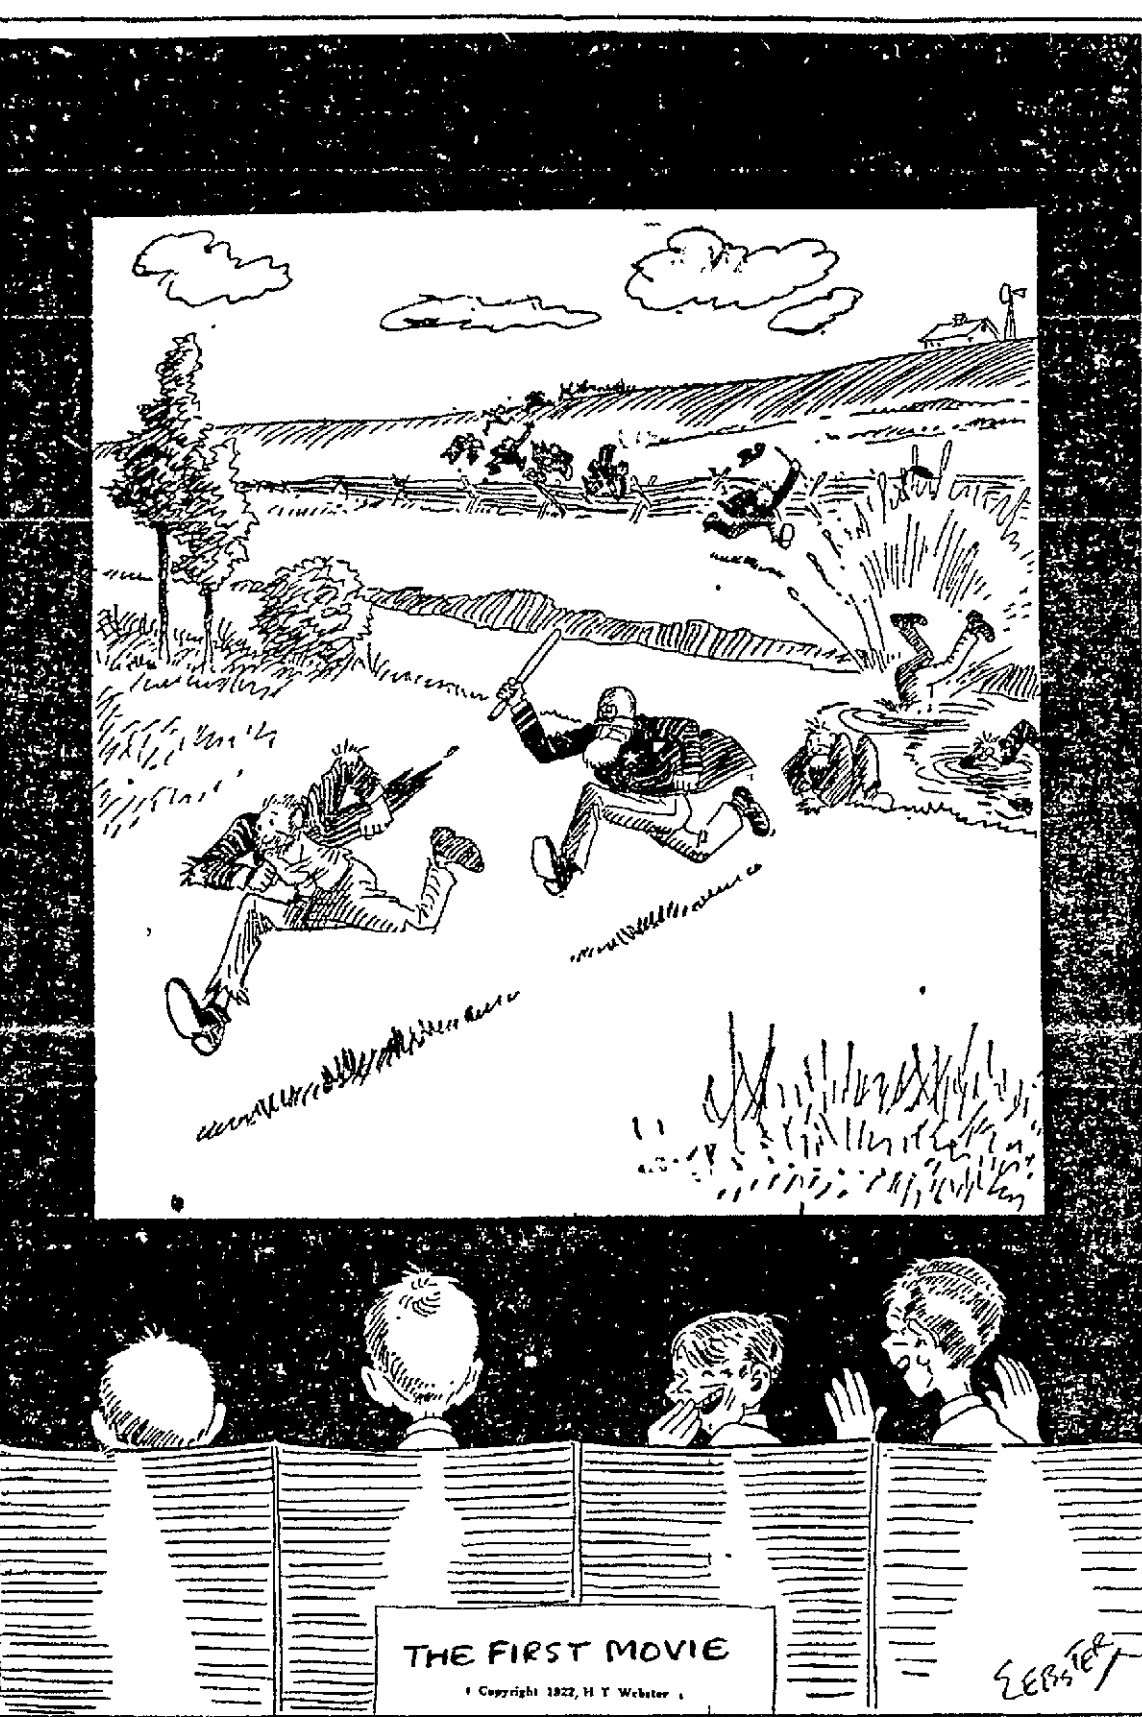

The specific charge contained in the complaint is that the Levins attempted to bribe Wesley to show on his report an amount of income tax less than was due for the November to December period and report no tax due for the years 1917 and 1918.

Wesley declared that he took the $5000 which was in currency and went directly to the office of Krull. Following their arrest the men were released on bonds of $15,000 each.

Two Men Injured While At Work

Two mechanics are today recovering from minor injuries received in falls while working on buildings yesterday. William E. Johns, 67-year-old house painter, fell from a scaffold on a building at Midvale avenue and Hopkins street. He escaped with a fracture of the arm and bruises. Johns resides at 2849 Delaware street. Jack Davis, 38, a roofer, residing at the St. James hotel, fell from a roof he was repairing when the gutter gave way. His only injuries were a possible fracture of the right wrist and cuts on the nose and upper lip. Both men received treatment at the Emergency hospital.

Muzzled Salesman at Schenectady Park

Silent real estate salesmen are supposed to be as rare as that bird, the Lodo, but "muzzled" salesmen will be the attraction of the Schenectady Park. The idea of course is that the property value is so great that the purchaser can see it without the aid of a salesman. That this is a fact one can easily prove when they see the big 40-foot SCHENECTADY PARK lots with street work, sewer, water, gas, electricity, cement gutters, curb, etc., which in many cases has cost more than the small price now asked for the same site. As an added value and sales feature the California Subdivision Company have persuaded the sellers to give away the investment complete to those who purchase a lot. This liberal proposition more than makes up for the great value offered buyers of homes in the SCHENECTADY PARK. One can readily see that a salesman is not necessary to show this bargain. The reason for this liberal offer is to quickly liquidate the mortgage on this land. Those attending the big sale Saturday or Sunday will find every lot tagged with the size, price and terms of each lot. All that they have to do is to check the investment is—"help themselves" by tearing the tag off state the sellers. The tag can be quickly and easily reached by taking any car out E 14th street to the big tract office at 6911 E 14th street, between Seminary avenue and 60th. The comfortable tract office makes it possible for the sale to be held in comfort rain or shine, and all are invited to attend—Advertisement.

Body Proposes Structure
On Webster Street.

A building site has been taken on a lot at 1550 Webster street by the Business and Professional Women's club as the preliminary step in the project of erecting a Women's building in Oakland adequate to the needs of local organizations. The lot is 50-150 feet. Miss Bird M. Wilson, local attorney, is chairman of the building committee which is devising ways and means of accomplishing the plan.

A junior membership is being organized in the club of 250 business and professional women under the leadership of Mrs. Sue L. Fratis, Miss Mohr, and Miss Jean Baird. A committee to advertise Oakland to the state has been named as follows: Mrs. M. B. Guber, Mrs. Isabel Dingwall, Mrs. A. M. Jensen, Mrs. C. E. Hynes.

To permit time for the discussion of legislation appearing on the November ballot, a dinner is announced for Thursday night of next week in the Broadway clubrooms. The speakers will be Miss Martha Jams, Mrs. Frances Wilson Kidd, Dr. R. F. Robie, Dr. Dudley Smith and others.

Dahlia decorating the luncheon tables yesterday when Mrs. Edna Spencer presented the members programs, were auctioned, adding a substantial sum to the general fund.

15 Canary Birds Die in Residence Fire

Fifteen canary birds were lost in a fire in the home of Mrs. L. Hevel, 874 Fifty-third street. The victims were trapped in the living room, with every exit of escape cut off. They were suffocated before the police and fire department could get into the room.

The fire was started by an electric iron which some one had failed to turn off after using. The damage is estimated at $100.

GRAND MASTER IS ELECTED BY STATE MASONS

William A. Sherman of San Francisco Elevated to Head of Fraternity.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—William A. Sherman of this city is the new grand master of the Masonic Order in California. He was elevated today to succeed Samuel E. Burke, who has ruled for the past year. The Grand Lodge session closes this evening.

Sherman, a former newspaper man of this city, is affiliated with Presidio Lodge No. 334, and is vice-president and general manager of the Merchants Ice and Cold Storage company. Arthur S. Critch of Bakersfield was advanced from senior grand warden to deputy grand master and David J. Reese of Ventura from junior grand warden to senior grand warden.

The activities of the grand lodge will close after the formal constitution of seven new lodges chartered in San Francisco last year and of Piedmont lodge in Piedmont. The business of election and installation of new officers occupied the attention of the delegates today.

The Grand Lodge voted an appropriation of $5000 for the construction of an assembly hall and equipment at the proposed Masonic club house at the University of California. More than $91,000 is already available for the unit, and plans are being made to start work in the near future.

The delegates also voted to invest an additional $40,000 in the Masonic Temple property here, and an appropriation of $3000 was decided upon to assist Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose in the management of the Masonic employment bureaus in those cities.

TAX DEVIED FOR HOMES.
A per capita tax of 25 cents a year was levied on the members of the fraternity to help support the Masonic homes at Covina, Los Angeles county, and Decoto, Alameda county, and for the maintenance of these institutions each lodge upon the initiation of a candidate must pay $20 of the initiatory fee into the homes fund.

The final financial item to be voted upon was a $15,000 indemnification to nine cities where Masonic boards of relief have loaned strangers of the Masonic affiliation money aggregating this amount.

At the conclusion of the afternoon session the delegates formally approved the Masonic order of De Molay for Boys and all Masons were urged to give their moral and personal support to such organizations in their neighborhood.

Last night the grand officers and delegates were invited to a third degree exemplification by Occidental Lodge No. 22, and a lecture illustrated with fifty slides by Past Master Harry L. Todd. His topic was "Washington, the Man and the Mason." Both affairs were held in the Masonic Temple, where the delegates have been meeting for the past three days.

Double Romance Revealed by Two Farm Contests

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Back of the legal suit filed at Rockford, Ill., yesterday by Mrs. Edith Kuharska for possession of two farms in Winnebago county lies a tale of the north woods, the story of the elopement of an Evanston heiress with her father's trapper-guide, and the marriage of the unforgiving parent to his daughter's college chum.

Mrs. Kuharska is the daughter of the late Charles B. Cleveland, who for many years prior to his death last fall was western agent for the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company. In March, 1905, she started Evanston society by marrying Edward A. Kuharska, Wisconsin trapper, who had been her father's guide on hunting and fishing trips on which she had sometimes gone. Educated at Evanston and in Europe, she became her woodsman's tutor as well as wife. They moved to one of the Winnebago county farms, which her father stocked, despite his displeasure over the match.

Early in 1921, Mr. Cleveland, then a widower two years, went to California, and at Los Gatos met and married his daughter's former college chum, Mrs. Frances Edna Coleman. Mr. Cleveland died a few months later, leaving everything, including "fishing tackle, guns, liquors and wearing apparel," to his widow.

Mentioning Mrs. Kuharska in his will, Mr. Cleveland said he "hoped that her fool husband could earn a comfortable living for his family," but that he had "gritted away the snug sum of $250,000 by the most reckless, unbelievable mismanagement and extravagance."

Mrs. Kuharska claims her father gave her the farms outright prior to the death of her mother in 1919, and that she has invested more than $40,000 of her own money in the property. Several thousand dollars worth of liquor mentioned in the Cleveland will was stolen last June when Mrs. Cleveland was in California.

Foresters Plan to Entertain Officials

WATSONVILLE, Oct. 13.—Pajaro Valley Rose Court, Foresters of America, is making preparation for the entertainment of Supreme Grand Chief Ranger Sullivan and a number of state grand officers, including the state grand ranger, the evening of October 20.

Merchants Favor Buying Water Plant

WATSONVILLE, Oct. 13.—The Watsonville Merchants' Association has gone on record as unanimously endorsing the project of the city administration to purchase the plant and properties of the Watsonville Water Company. Also the individual members pledged themselves unreservedly to work for the success of the bonding proposal to be voted upon at a special election to be held November 12. The association at its meeting formally received its new secretary, Mrs. Willard G. Cram, who succeeds Mrs. Mattie Powell Scott, who resigned last month to accept a position in the insurance offices of G. R. Simpson, local agent for the West Coast Life Insurance Company.

Charges On Newman Policeman Dismissed

NEWMAN, Oct. 13.—Charges recently made against Night Policeman Ralph Newsome were dismissed at the last meeting of the city trustees. It appearing to the board's satisfaction that they were without sufficient foundation to warrant action. Ed Hollister and Peter Burgard placed the charges against Newsome, the former alleging assault and the latter conducting an officer. At the same meeting two applications to reopen the soft drinks bar at the commercial hotel, closed recently for selling liquor, were refused.

Buyers After Santa Rosa Grape Crop

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 13.—Thirty-three grape buyers are now in Santa Rosa, endeavoring to secure grapes not damaged by the recent rains. So heavy is the damage to the Zinfandel crop that grapes already picked and under cover are bringing strong prices. One buyer bought a carload at $75 a ton, and in a few hours sold them for $105 a ton. The second buyer in less than an hour sold them for $130. The Sonoma county grape crop is the latest in the state to ripen, and buyers from all other parts of the state are swarming here to get what few grapes have been saved from the rain.

Two Are Fined For Robbing Orchard

SANTA CLARA, Oct. 13.—Veinto Fulantes and Bonifacio Savian, who were charged by Glenn Allen, a walnut grower of San Jose, with stealing walnuts from his orchard, yesterday pleaded guilty to the charges preferred against them and Judge Charles A. Thompson imposed a fine of $5 on each of them. They stated that they each took only a handful of the nuts, but they were not worth $5 a handful, so they promised to purchase their walnuts in the future in the regular manner.

Napa Firm Receives Contract From Navy

Success in baking is a matter of baking powder

BAKING is a matter of baking powder, and not "luck" as many women believe.

Eggs, butter, flour, though skillfully prepared for baking depend for raising upon baking powder, and their wholesomeness is largely determined by its quality.

To have perfectly raised dough, light, tender, tasteful bakings, choose baking powder carefully.

Because of its scientific manufacture

CALUMET

can be depended upon always for successful raisings, every time you bake.

Calumet is economical, it prevents failure and the spoiling of ingredients; moderate in cost, and because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength, less is used.

The sale of Calumet is over 2½ times as big as that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

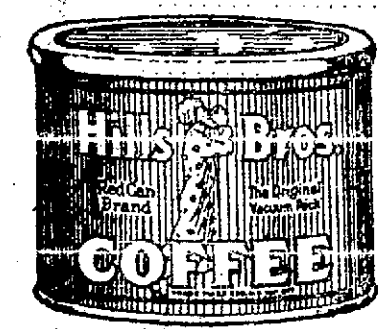

Home Roasted Coffee cost more than good coffee does today

Perhaps you remember the days when coffee was purchased green and roasted at home. A few handfuls placed in a hot oven and stirred around for a short time until brown, perhaps burnt a little for good measure, was the usual thing. Although in all probability it was a low grade of Rio sold at a fancy price, one can look back with pleasure on the mornings when coffee, on account of its scarcity and high price, was a big addition to the meal.

Coffee roasting and packing today is not the simple thing of forty or fifty years ago; for the insistent demand for quality has made coffee preparation an exceedingly difficult and important operation.

The half century endeavor of Hills Bros. toward one aim—highest coffee quality—has developed processes of blending, roasting, grinding and packing that are distinctly individual. These methods, a little more skill and knowledge here and there, make a difference in taste and flavor which accounts for the fact that Hills Bros. Coffee leads all other brands in volume of sales.

Sold only by retail grocers.

RADIO REVEALS CHIEF VALUE AS FANS HEAR S. O. S.

Burning of Pacific Liner Brings Eastbay Code Readers Word of Drama.

For the first time since radio became popular, the radio fans of the bay district, as well as those all along the coast, yesterday were given an opportunity to listen in on some of the most dramatic messages that have passed through the air in a long time.

The messages were those from the burning steamship Honolulu, 600 miles west of San Pedro, and those that were flashed back by the ships that picked up the "SOS" call for help.

Daily the radio fans who read code listen in on ships working all the way from Seattle to Honolulu, and even as far away as Japan. These distant messages are picked up at night usually when weather conditions are more favorable for long distance reception than during the daylight hours.

Yesterday, however, the steamship Honolulu spoke to the world from a distance that afforded easy reception, and the message was one that many an amateur has listened for—the triple dot, triple dash, triple dot. The "SOS" came early in the morning, that few heard it, but thousands heard the dramatic messages that followed, up to the time the ship was deserted by the captain and W. B. Ball, chief operator, who sent the messages.

PROVE REAL VALUE.

The messages that flashed back and forth tell a story all their own and story of the great development of radio and its modern uses. Yesterday's disaster brought to light the real value of radio. Ships hundreds of miles apart spoke with one another, and the world knew their language. And for six hours the world waited for the result while ships broke all their previous records for speed in an effort to reach nearly 400 souls.

The messages were as follows:

5:30 a. m.—"Fire! Fire! We are on fire—latitude 31:07 north, longitude 131:40 west (672 miles west southwest of San Pedro). All ships kindly stand by."—S. S. City of Honolulu.

5:30 a. m.—"Got you okay. Am in latitude 32:58 north, longitude 134:43 west. Coming."—U. S. A. T. Thomas.

5:31 a. m.—"We are coming. Am now latitude 32:17 north, longitude 135:12 west."—S. S. Enterprise.

5:32 a. m.—"Our position is latitude 32:42 north, longitude 145:52 west."—S. S. City of Los Angeles.

5:33 a. m.—"Thanks. All stand by."—City of Honolulu.

5:34 a. m.—"Then comes S. O. S."—S. O. S. S. O. S.

5:35 a. m.—"City of Honolulu."—City of Honolulu.

5:36 a. m.—"Fire! no beyond control. We are launching lifeboats with all passengers and crew. Come quickly, come quickly."—From City of Honolulu.

5:37 a. m.—"Captain Lester, first officer, chief engineer and myself are on the ship. We are now 240 miles west of her position."—S. S. Enterprise.

5:38 a. m.—"We will reach scene at 1:30 a. m." (Signed) U. S. A. T. Thomas.

5:39 a. m.—"Rushing to City of Honolulu. We are now 240 miles west of her position."—S. S. Enterprise.

5:40 a. m.—"We should reach position of City of Honolulu at 1:30 a. m. Am heading all speed."—S. S. West Farallon.

5:41 a. m.—"Lending all assistance available here at scene of disaster."—S. S. Casanova.

5:42 a. m.—"The private steam yacht of Edward L. Doheny."—Yacht of Edward L. Doheny.

5:43 a. m.—"We are 15 miles from scene of Honolulu fire. Can see mountain of smoke. Should pick them up in two hours. Crew making preparations to rescue survivors."—West Farallon.

Fifteen Minutes Radio Daily

LESSON 184.
A loop aerial four feet square wound with twelve turns of No. 18 cotton covered wire with the turns spaced one-half inch apart may be used for interception of radio signals in combination with the Super-Regenerative circuit originated by E. H. Armstrong. The loop should be shunted by a variable condenser having a capacity of 0.001 microfarads.

In a vacuum tube receiving circuit employing a grid condenser, rectification of the incoming signal is obtained by a decrease in the average value of the plate current regardless of what part of the plate current curve is used. Without a grid condenser rectification may take place either with an increase or decrease in plate current, depending on whether the upper or lower bend of the characteristic or plate current curve is employed.

The capacity of a storage battery is expressed in ampere-hours at a normal rate of discharge, for example, a battery having a capacity of 50 ampere-hours on an eight-hour rate will deliver a current of 10 amperes for eight hours. It is necessary to put from 15 to 20 per cent more energy into a battery than is taken out.

The amplification of a resistance amplifier is not as great as with transformer coupling and for way below 1000 ohms the amplification is not easily secured. It is also necessary to use a plate battery having a voltage much larger than the normal value due to the fact that a considerable amount of the plate voltage is absorbed by the resistance.

WOMAN BOOSTS WRIGHT MEASURE

Mrs. Robert Dean, well-known college woman and member of the "committee of 5000" of San Francisco, addressed the Christian Citizens League last night at the Brooklyn Presbyterian church. Mrs. Dean's subject dealt with the necessity of enforcing the constitutional law of the U. S. embodied in California in amendment number two on the ballot and known as the Wright Enforcement act.

Miss M. Ross of Berkeley gave a review of the Land Settlement act and the Housing act.

The Christian Citizens League voted to postpone its meeting of October 19, to attend a mass meeting at the municipal auditorium when Bob Shuler will speak on "Americanism and the Crisis in California."

Confessed Forger
Asks for Probation

NAPA, Oct. 13.—Henry Jung, here recently passed a titanic check for $25,000 on a business firm of this city, pleaded guilty to a felony charge before Judge F. J. in the Superior Court and asked for probation. His case was submitted to Probation Officer Jasper who will make an investigation and report Monday morning.

Jungberg claims that he has never been in trouble before. He declares that he had been drinking at the time of passing the bad check and did not realize what he was doing.

MAN OVERCOME BY GAS.
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 13.—John Blake, 55 years old, of 165 Eleventh street, was found unconscious from asphyxiation in his home today and was taken to the Central Emergency hospital. A gas stove had evidently been left lighted and later the flame extinguished by a breeze. Blake's condition is evidently the result of

'CANDY DAY' TO OPEN BIG EASTBAY SHOW TOMORROW

All Exhibits Are in Place For Manufacturers' Exposition at Idora Park.

The second annual East Bay Manufacturers' Exposition opens at Idora Park tomorrow. The stage is set for the big event. The exhibits are ready, the displays are in place.

"Candy Day," celebrated throughout the nation as "the sweetest day in the year," will usher in the big event. Ten thousand pieces of huffe bar, a confection turned out by the Cardinet Candy Company, hosts on opening day will be given away to grown-ups and kiddies.

But "Candy Day" will just serve to usher in the great exposition itself with its wide array of Eastbay manufactured products, its wonderful story of industrial development from Richmond to Livermore, its story of labor's contribution to the greatness of the Eastbay's industrial progress.

SHOWS INDUSTRIAL WEALTH

For nine days the industrial wealth of the Eastbay will be on display. The exposition comes to a close Sunday night, October 22, with the awarding of a Ford touring car to one of the thousands who will visit the exposition on closing day.

A thousand and one products of mill and factory of automobile plant, of household appliance works will be shown. There will be Eastbay made furniture, wonderful floor lamps, electric irons, electric washing machines, stoves, electric gas and wood ranges made right here in Oakland, all arranged in fine array.

There will be exhibits of structural steel, of finely woven wire baskets, fences and what not from the mills of the Eastbay. The big public service corporation, including the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the Great Western Power Company, the East Bay Water Company will have exhibits of more than passing interest.

TRIBUTE TO LABOR.

In this exposition will be found high tribute for the skilled labor employed at the various plants. It is the thinking brain of the worker that has made possible the wonderful products of the Eastbay factories.

And organized labor has recognized the special appeal of the exposition. The Central Labor Council and the Building Trades Council of Alameda county have gone on record solidly behind the big show.

The Central Labor Council has appointed the following committee to co-operate with the exposition management and to prepare the program for Industrial and Labor Day which will be celebrated on Friday, October 20. Edgar S. Hurley, chairman, William A. Spooner and James Shea.

The Building Trades Council has likewise appointed a committee to co-operate and assist in making the exposition a success. The committee is as follows: S. J. Donohue, chairman, E. C. Carter and Joseph Lloyd.

PRIZES TO BE GIVEN.
During the nine days of the exposition $300 in prizes will be distributed to the visitors on the special days which will feature the show.

Tuesday next, October 17, will be known as "Durant Day." An order for $500 on a new Durant car, good on any dealer in the State, will be awarded by the Durant Motors Co. of California.

The Realty Syndicate will give away $250 to be applied on any lot purchased in Alameda.

On TRIBUNE Day, Thursday, October 19, a Spark range combination coal and gas range manufactured by Hammer-Bray Company, an Oakland concern will be one of the many prizes awarded.

On closing day, Sunday, October 22, a Ford touring car will be the grand award.
